NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

MRS. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE has nearly recovered her physical health. Her mind, however, is badly shattered, and her memory so entirely gone that she cannot recognize acquaintances.

COL. FRED. D. GRANT took the oath of office yesterday as Minister to Austria. He is now a full fledged Minister Plenipotentiary, and can depart for his post as soon as he is ready. He will probably leave in April.

SECRETARY NOBLE is looming up as the most probable candidate for the vacancy on the Supreme bench caused by the death of Justice Matthews. Noble is one of the leading lawyers at the St. Louis bar. His elevation, it is said, will make J. S. Clarkson Secretary of the Interior.

THE wife of Rev. Mr. McGregor, a Baptist pastor in Rochester, was burned to death at St. Stephen, N. B., yesterday. She sat near an open stove and was applying kerosene oil to her body for sciatica, when the oil took fire and exploded over her. Very few cases of "didn't know it was loaded" are ahead of this in carelessness.

ONIONS are selling for one cent a bushel in the great onion growing region around Canal stota. The onion market is overstocked. One Madison county grower who shipped 600 bushels to New York last week received a check for $1.55 in full payment. The soil is so favorable to onions that they can be raised at a handsome profit for 25 cents a bushel, and the farmers are going to try it again.

THE Washington Star is the only authority given for the story that Mr. Wanamaker declared he would not make removals for offensive partisanship, and even the Star declines to name its informant. The yarn may be set down as a Mugwump joke on Wanamaker, who is not a Mugwump by a big majority. The offensive partisans are going right straight along and with constantly accelerating speed. After they are out the administration will put the public service on a reform basis.

THE colored people who are moving out of North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee in such large numbers, are concentrating in Mississippi, the home of Jeff. Davis and the theater of more political murders for the maintenance of a "White Man's Government" than any other state of the section. The whites are alarmed and admit that they are in danger of being overwhelmed by numbers. And yet it would be an instance of poetic justice if Mississippi should become a negro state.

POSTMASTER GENERAL WANAMAKER selects John Fields for Postmaster of Philadelphia, while Senator Quay prefers William R. Leeds. Fields is a merchant of Mr. Wanamaker's own high standing, a man of great business capacity, an earnest Republican, but not greatly addicted to politics. Leeds is of the best and highest type of Philadelphia politicians, alert, influential, with first-class business qualifications and a clean record. The business sentiment of Philadelphia inclines to Fields, but all admit that either will do. It is believed that Mr. Wanamaker's choice will be respected by President Harrison.

A SECTION of Broadway, New York, in front of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, was torn to pieces at noon yesterday by a quick succession of explosions. These were so powerful that they lifted the heavy caps of the manholes ten feet into the air and hurled paving blocks in all directions. Fortunately no one was seriously hurt, though this is the most crowded section of Broadway and hundreds were passing. The cause is a mystery, though the general impression appears to be that it was caused by an accumulation of illuminating gas.

IN the first test case relating to the despotic acts of the Indiana Legislature for the control of offices, the Supreme Court decides against it. The act in question placed the control of the fire and police departments, streets, alleys, water supply, lighting, etc., in Indianapolis and Evansville in charge of commissions appointed by the Legislature. The court in rendering its decision says that such legislation, "if unchecked, would lead to legislative despotism as absolute as that of the French national assembly during the Reign of Terror."

JOHN HUMBERT died at McClellandtown, Pa., yesterday from injuries inflicted by a gang of robbers last summer. To compel him to give up a large sum of money which was supposed to be in the house, the rascals burned the palms of his hands, held his body over the fire, and inflicted other tortures. He was immovable, however, and they left without their plunder. A month ago Humbert allowed his place to be sold rather than touch his hoard. He died without revealing its hiding place, though he tried several times. His last words were: "Bob, the box is—;" then he gasped and died. His relatives are hunting for the cash.

SUPERINTENDENT DOOLITTLE of the Railway Mail Service, after a rather inglorious record of four months, has resigned by request, to make room for R. C. Jackson, the most efficient officer ever engaged in the railway mail service. Mr. Doolittle's resignation will take effect on the 31st inst., when Jackson will again take hold. Doolittle's elevation to a place for which he had less experience and fitness than the driver of a street car, was due to the favoritism of Hon Isaac Maynard, whose faithful servitor he had been. As an instance of offensive partisanship, it appears to have "taken the cake," for everybody who relied upon the mails has been offended.

SUSAN SILKIER, a Hungarian domestic in the employ of Isaac Brunner in Brooklyn, was hauled out of a closet yesterday after having been concealed three days without fire, food or light. Last Friday evening, having been left alone in the house till thoughts of burglars made her nervous, she imagined when she heard Mr. and Mrs. Brunner entering the house that they were robbers. She immediately crawled into a closet and kept silent for three days while her employers and relatives were searching the city for her. She was discovered by Mr. Brunner's little son. When led out she was found to be insane from her long fright, but the doctors believe that she will soon recover.

HE WAS A NOTED STONE CARVER.

Death of Robert Richardson, of Ithaca, While at Savannah, Georgia.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ITHACA, March 26.—Robert Richardson, a stone-carver, died yesterday at Savannah, Ga., on his way home from St. Augustine, Fla. He was 45 years old and reputed to be the most artistic stone sculpter in this country. His handiwork was sought for the embellishment of many of the finer structures throughout the State. He was an enthusiast in his art and scoured Kensington and other noted English schools in frequent visits for manels to be utilized in the instruction of his amateur classes in clay modelling and stone carving. Mr. Richardson was prominent in Masonic circles.

All the prisoners were arraigned before Judge Gildersleeve and pleaded not guilty. They gave bail in $1,000 each with the exception of Alderman Goetz, who was required to furnish $2,000 bail to await trial.

NEW-YORK STATE LEGISLATURE

To Meet in Joint Session To-Morrow to Hear Capitol Commission Report.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

ALBANY, March 26.—In the Assembly to-day Mullaney's bill authorizing the New-York Common Council to appropriate $15,000 for fireworks at the Washington Centennial celebration was passed. The House spent over an hour in discussing the drafted men's bill. The bill was ordered to a third reading.

The Senate resolution for a joint meeting, Wednesday evening, March 27, for the purpose of inspecting plans for the completion of the Capitol, was adopted.

Husted moved that a special session of the House be held, to-morrow afternoon, between 5 and 6 o'clock, to consider the ballot reform and Excise Commission bills. It was carried.

IN THE STATE SENATE.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, March 26.—Sloan offered a concurrent resolution in the Senate to-day for a joint session of the two Houses to-morrow evening to hear the report of the Capitol Commission to which was entrusted the work of ascertaining the cost of completing the Capitol building. Mr. Sloan announced that stereopticon views would be given. Kellogg objected that there was no authority for a joint session for this purpose. It had been appointed as a rider to the appropriation bill and it had been formed as a war measure. He should henceforth insist that the Capitol Commissioner should be allowed to exercise the functions of his office or that the law creating the office should be repealed

Erwin thought the resolution was all right. The Legislature had met in joint session for memorial exercises, and might so do to consider the condition of the Capitol building, which was a magnificent structure, in some respects, and a "gigantic steal" in others.

Coggeshall endorsed these views. He considered that the parallel with memorial exercises was happy. It was a mausoleum, where the people had deposited $18,000,000 of their hard-earned savings. He characterized the Capitol as "a stupendous fraud."

Arnold suggested that the members of the Senate and Assembly simply be requested to attend and receive the report, and that the wording of the resolution be so changed.

Langbein declared the resolution was simply a catch-penny scheme intended to wheedle more money out of the people for continuing the Capitol construction.

The resolution was amended to meet the objections made and passed.

Bills passed: Linson's, amending the Civil Code, relative to the competency of witnesses. Curtis', providing that when the Grand Army of the Republic is dissolved its property shall revert to the State. Vedder's, permitting railroads to run baggage and express-cars behind passenger cars. Husted's, for the distribution of money collected under the Ives pool law to agricultural societies. McNaughton's, for the incorporation of assessment or co-operative insurance companies to insure the lives of horses, mules, etc.

The time for the report of the Fasset Special Investigating Committee was further extended to April 22.

Bills passed: Walker's, placing the names of new banks under the control of the Superintendent of the Bank Department. The Insurance Commissioners' bill allowing boiler insurance companies to also insure boiler connections. McCarren's, authorizing a $25,000 appropriation by Brooklyn for the Washington Centennial. Adjourned.

A BONDED WAREHOUSE BURNED.

Believed to Have Been Fired by Incendiaries; Loss $1,500,000.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, March 27.—The Grand Central warehouse, at Rush and North Water-streets, was burned this morning and building and contents are a total loss, the aggregate of which is placed at $1,500,000. Twice before within a comparatively short time the building has been on fire. Two weeks ago there was a slight blaze in the structure which, though easily extinguished, was very suspicious in its circumstances. Alderman Manierre, owner of the building, said this morning he had no doubt that the three fires were all of incendiary origin. It was a Government bonded ware-house and 90 per cent. of its contents were teas and coffees in bond for the import duty. Their ownership was widely distributed. Perhaps the heaviest losers are Fitch, Howland & Company, of this City, who had $250,000 worth of teas in the building. Other Chicago firms who had property in the ware-house, are: C. B. Lathrop & Company, Hillyer & Company, Falker & Stern, Wineman, Conant & Company, W. F. Peel & Company, Robert Jeffrey & Company and the Union National Bank. Outside firms which lose by the fire are: Hydes, Southworth & E. S. Conont & Company, both of Boston; Siegfield & Browndenstein, San Francisco; Eppers, Smith, Windman & Company, Carter, Hawley & Company, George W. Lane & Company and W. P. Roome & Company, all of New-York City.

PANIC AT WILLIAMSBURGH.

NEW-YORK, March 26.—A fire caused by an explosion occurred about 1 o'clock to-day, in a factory, corner of Kent-avenue and South-second-street, Williamsburgh. The fire was in a four-story building occupied as a shoe factory. A number of girls were injured in the panic that ensued when the alarm was given. At 2 P. M. the fire was still in progress. Late reports by telephone say at least 20 persons were injured, and that it is believed several have been killed. Many girls flung themselves head-long into the street. A dozen unconscious girls were carried from the burning building on stretchers by the police, most of them suffering from shock more than anything else. The factory building was destroyed. It was owned by ex-Alderman W. W. Armfield. The loss will reach $50,000.

SOLDIER WHO IS AN EMBEZZLER.

It is Believed He Has Reached Canada with From $3,000 to $4,000.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHEYENE, Wyo., March 26.—Fifteen months ago James Grant arrived at Fort Laramie as a recruit. He was prepossessing, intelligent and well educated, and was soon promoted to a Corporalship. Gaining the confidence of Joseph Roseburg, a Jewish private soldier who had saved several thousand dollars by long service, he induced him to form a partnership to loan money to the soldiers from pay day to pay day at 10 per cent. per month. The next step was to borrow money, paying 5 per cent. per month interest. A banking business of large dimensions was done, many officers loaning money or having pay warrants discounted. Saturday last, when the soldiers were paid off, Grant is said to have collected $2,000 of the loans of the previous month. With this and $3,000 or $4,000 more, all assets of the firm, he left the place on a horse belonging to one of the officers. It is feared he will reach Canada with the money.

DIED.

HASBROUCK—At Port Ewen, N. Y., on March 25, 1889, Josiah Hasbrouck, M. D., of heart failure, aged 59 years.

Funeral on Wednesday, at 11 A. M., from the Reformed Dutch Church, at Port Ewen. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

ENORMOUS FORTUNES.

Notwithstanding the enormous fortunes accumulated through the use of printer's ink, large sums of money are annually wasted in ineffectual and unremunerative advertising.

The merits of a really valuable commodity properly portrayed in the columns of an influential and widely read newspaper, like The Freeman, will speedily become generally known and appreciated, while the returns reaped by the advertiser will be like those of the wise husbandman who "planted his seed in good ground, wherein it bore fruit and brought forth, some an hundred fold, some sixty, some thirty."

The wording of an advertisement is an all-important matter.

Clearness, attractiveness, brevity and sincerity must characterize any announcement intended to catch the public eye and appeal to public confidence. An advertisement inserted in a London journal a few days ago brought instant and multitudinous replies, accompanied by an almost unlimited supply of bank notes, simply because it touched the chord of nature which makes all mankind akin. Its simple pathos and self-evident truthfulness appealed to every heart.

The advertiser sought for a lost relative, and, giving his name, said: "I am ill and friendless. My last half crown is expended in paying for this advertisement. Write me at"—[giving the address]. As already stated, nearly every one who read the announcement hastened to relieve the necessities of the sufferer—a real sufferer in this case, though many swindles are perpetrated in the divine name of charity.

Thus it is with a really meritorious commodity or preparation; if its virtues be properly and truthfully set forth in the public press, its success is prompt and certain.

On the other hand, the public is quick and unerring to detect deception and charlatanry; and, accordingly, no amount of "puffery" will force a vile nostrum into public esteem and patronage. Untold sums have been sunk in vain efforts to advertise into popularity so-called medical preparations which did not possess the virtues or properties claimed for them.

Valuable medicines, however, like Warner's Safe Cure and Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla, carry their own best commendation in their power to cure the particular diseases for which they are a specific.

They require no labored panegyric to convince the people of their power and efficacy, for they have been tried and found perfect.

Nature's remedies, by their own intrinsic merits have conferred a lasting boon upon mankind, and they have secured an enviable reputation and unlimited sale throughout the civilized world.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

MRS. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE has nearly recovered her physical health. Her mind, however, is badly shattered, and her memory so entirely gone that she cannot recognize acquaintances.

COL. FRED. D. GRANT took the oath of office yesterday as Minister to Austria. He is now a full fledged Minister Plenipotentiary, and can depart for his post as soon as he is ready. He will probably leave in April.

SECRETARY NOBLE is looming up as the most probable candidate for the vacancy on the Supreme bench caused by the death of Justice Matthews. Noble is one of the leading lawyers at the St. Louis bar. His elevation, it is said, will make J. S. Clarkson Secretary of the Interior.

THE wife of Rev. Mr. McGregor, a Baptist pastor in Rochester, was burned to death at St. Stephen, N. B., yesterday. She sat near an open stove and was applying kerosene oil to her body for sciatica, when the oil took fire and exploded over her. Very few cases of "didn't know it was loaded" are ahead of this in carelessness.

ONIONS are selling for one cent a bushel in the great onion growing region around Canal stota. The onion market is overstocked. One Madison county grower who shipped 600 bushels to New York last week received a check for $1.55 in full payment. The soil is so favorable to onions that they can be raised at a handsome profit for 25 cents a bushel, and the farmers are going to try it again.

THE Washington Star is the only authority given for the story that Mr. Wanamaker declared he would not make removals for offensive partisanship, and even the Star declines to name its informant. The yarn may be set down as a Mugwump joke on Wanamaker, who is not a Mugwump by a big majority. The offensive partisans are going right straight along and with constantly accelerating speed. After they are out the administration will put the public service on a reform basis.

THE colored people who are moving out of North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee in such large numbers, are concentrating in Mississippi, the home of Jeff. Davis and the theater of more political murders for the maintenance of a "White Man's Government" than any other state of the section. The whites are alarmed and admit that they are in danger of being overwhelmed by numbers. And yet it would be an instance of poetic justice if Mississippi should become a negro state.

POSTMASTER GENERAL WANAMAKER selects John Fields for Postmaster of Philadelphia, while Senator Quay prefers William R. Leeds. Fields is a merchant of Mr. Wanamaker's own high standing, a man of great business capacity, an earnest Republican, but not greatly addicted to politics. Leeds is of the best and highest type of Philadelphia politicians, alert, [illegible] influential, with first-class business qualifications [illegible] and a clean record. The business sentiment of Philadelphia inclines to Fields, but all admit that [illegible] will do. It is believed that Mr. Wanamaker's choice will be respected by President Harrison.

A SECTION of Broadway, New York, in front of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, was torn to pieces at noon yesterday by a quick succession of explosions. These were so powerful that they lifted the heavy caps of the manholes ten feet into the air and hurled paving blocks in all directions. Fortunately no one was seriously hurt, though this is the most crowded section of Broadway and hundreds were passing. The cause is a mystery, though the general impression appears to be that it was caused by an accumulation of illuminating gas.

IN the first test case relating to the despotic acts of the Indiana Legislature for the control of offices, the Supreme Court decides against it. The act in question placed the control of the fire and police departments, streets, alleys, water supply, lighting, etc., in Indianapolis and Evansville in charge of commissions appointed by the Legislature. The court in rendering its decision says that such legislation, "if unchecked, would lead to legislative despotism as absolute as that of the French national assembly during the Reign of Terror."

JOHN HUMBERT died at McClellandtown, Pa., yesterday from injuries inflicted by a gang of robbers last summer. To compel him to give up a large sum of money which was supposed to be in the house, the rascals burned the palms of his hands, held his body over the fire, and inflicted other tortures. He was immovable, however, and they left without their plunder. A month ago Humbert allowed his place to be sold rather than touch his hoard. He died without revealing its hiding place, though he tried several times. His last words were: "Bob, the box is—;" then he gasped and died. His relatives are hunting for the cash.

SUPERINTENDENT DOOLITTLE of the Railway Mail Service, after a rather inglorious record of four months, has resigned by request, to make room for R. C. Jackson, the most efficient officer ever engaged in the railway mail service. Mr. Doolittle's resignation will take effect on the 31st inst., when Jackson will again take hold. Doolittle's elevation to a place for which he had less experience and fitness than the driver of a street car, was due to the favoritism of Hon Isaac Maynard, whose faithful servitor he had been. As an instance of offensive partisanship, it appears to have "taken the cake," for everybody who relied upon the mails has been offended.

SUSAN SILKIER, a Hungarian domestic in the employ of Isaac Brunner in Brooklyn, was hauled out of a closet yesterday after having been concealed three days without fire, food or light. Last Friday evening, having been left alone in the house till thoughts of burglars made her nervous, she imagined when she heard Mr. and Mrs. Brunner entering the house that they were robbers. She immediately crawled into a closet and kept silent for three days while her employers and relatives were searching the city for her. She was discovered by Mr. Brunner's little son. When led out she was found to be insane from her long fright, but the doctors believe that she will soon recover.

HE WAS A NOTED STONE CARVER.

Death of Robert Richardson, of Ithaca, While at Savannah, Georgia.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ITHACA, March 26.—Robert Richardson, a stone-carver, died yesterday at Savannah, Ga., on his way home from St. Augustine, Fla. He was 45 years old and reputed to be the most artistic stone sculpter in this country. His handiwork was sought for the embellishment of many of the finer structures throughout the State. He was an enthusiast in his art and scoured Kensington and other noted English schools in frequent visits for manels to be utilized in the instruction of his amateur classes in clay modelling and stone carving. Mr. Richardson was prominent in Masonic circles.

Alleged Violators of Election Laws.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, March 26.—Alderman Charles Goetz, Charles M. Jackson, Morris Isaacs and Edward Butler were arrested this morning on bench warrants issued from the General Sessions Court on indictments found by the Grand Jury charging them with violating the election laws. The evidence was furnished by the Reform Association. Charles Smith, known as "Silver Dollar" Smith, Member of Assembly from the Eighth District, was later taken into custody on the same charge. All the prisoners were arraigned before Judge Gildersleeve and plead-ed not guilty. They gave bail in $1,000 each with the exception of Alderman Goetz, who was required to furnish $2,000 bail to await trial.

NEW-YORK STATE LEGISLATURE

To Meet in Joint Session To-Morrow to Hear Capitol Commission Report.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

ALBANY, March 26.—In the Assembly to-day Mullaney's bill authorizing the New-York Common Council to appropriate $15,000 for fireworks at the Washington Centennial celebration was passed. The House spent over an hour in discussing the drafted men's bill. The bill was ordered to a third reading.

The Senate resolution for a joint meeting, Wednesday evening, March 27, for the purpose of inspecting plans for the completion of the Capitol, was adopted.

Husted moved that a special session of the House be held, to-morrow afternoon, between 5 and 6 o'clock, to consider the ballot reform and Excise Commission bills. It was carried.

IN THE STATE SENATE.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, March 26.—Sloan offered a concurrent resolution in the Senate to-day for a joint session of the two Houses to-morrow evening to hear the report of the Capitol Commission to which was entrusted the work of ascertaining the cost of completing the Capitol building. Mr. Sloan announced that stereopticon views would be given. Kellogg objected that there was no authority for a joint session for this purpose. It had been appointed as a rider to the appropriation bill and it had been formed as a war measure. He should henceforth insist that the Capitol Commissioner should be allowed to exercise the functions of his office or that the law creating the office should be repealed

Erwin thought the resolution was all right. The Legislature had met in joint session for memorial exercises, and might so do to consider the condition of the Capitol building, which was a magnificent structure, in some respects, and a "gigantic steal" in others.

Coggeshall endorsed these views. He considered that the parallel with memorial exercises was happy. It was a mausoleum, where the people had deposited $18,000,000 of their hard-earned savings. He characterized the Capitol as "a stupendous fraud."

Arnold suggested that the members of the Senate and Assembly simply be requested to attend and receive the report, and that the wording of the resolution be so changed.

Langbein declared the resolution was simply a catch-penny scheme intended to wheedle more money out of the people for continuing the Capitol construction.

The resolution was amended to meet the objections made and passed.

Bills passed: Linson's, amending the Civil Code, relative to the competency of witnesses. Curtis', providing that when the Grand Army of the Republic is dissolved its property shall revert to the State. Vedder's, permitting railroads to run baggage and express-cars behind passenger cars. Husted's, for the distribution of money collected under the Ives pool law to agricultural societies. McNaughton's, for the incorporation of assessment or co-operative insurance companies to insure the lives of horses, mules, etc.

The time for the report of the Fasset Special Investigating Committee was further extended to April 22.

Bills passed · Walker's, placing the names of new banks under the control of the Superintendent of the Bank Department. The Insurance Commissioners' bill allowing boiler insurance companies to also insure boiler connections. McCarren's, authorizing a $25,000 appropriation by Brooklyn for the Washington Centennial. Adjourned.

A BONDED WAREHOUSE BURNED.

Believed to Have Been Fired by Incendiaries; Loss $1,500,000.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, March 27.—The Grand Central warehouse, at Rush and North Water-streets, was burned this morning and building and contents are a total loss, the aggregate of which is placed at $1,500,000. Twice before within a comparatively short time the building has been on fire. Two weeks ago there was a slight blaze in the structure which, though easily extinguished, was very suspicious in its circumstances. Alderman Manierre, owner of the building, said this morning he had no doubt that the three fires were all of incendiary origin. It was a Government bonded ware-house and 90 per cent. of its contents were teas and coffees in bond for the import duty. Their ownership was widely distributed. Perhaps the heaviest losers are Fitch, Howland & Company, of this City, who had $250,000 worth of teas in the building. Other Chicago firms who had property in the ware-house, are: C. B. Lathrop & Company, Hillyer & Company, Falker & Stern, Wineman, Conant & Company, W. F. Peel & Company, Robert Jeffrey & Company and the Union National Bank. Outside firms which lose by the fire are; Hydes, Southworth & E. S. Conont & Company, both of Boston; Siegfield & Browndenstein, San Francisco; Eppers, Smith, Windman & Company, Carter, Hawley & Company, George W. Lane & Company and W. P. Roome & Company, all of New-York City.

PANIC AT WILLIAMSBURGH.

NEW-YORK, March 26.—A fire caused by an explosion occurred about 1 o'clock to-day, in a factory, corner of Kent-avenue and South-second-street, Williamsburgh. The fire was in a four-story building occupied as a shoe factory. A number of girls were injured in the panic that ensued when the alarm was given. At 2 P. M. the fire was still in progress. Late reports by telephone say at least 20 persons were injured, and that it is believed several have been killed. Many girls flung themselves head-long into the street. A dozen unconscious girls were carried from the burning building on stretchers by the police, most of them suffering from shock more than anything else. The factory building was destroyed. It was owned by ex-Alderman W. W. Armfield. The loss will reach $50,000.

ANOTHER FIRE.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

TROY, N. Y., March 25.—At 4 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in John O'Connor's store, Middle Granville. The Gilder block, owned by Miss Williams, of Salem, and o[illegible]cupied by J. S. Hughes & Son, was burned. [illegible] loss to the buildings and contents is estimated at from $8,000 to $10,000. Partly insured.

SOLDIER WHO IS AN EMBEZZLER.

It is Believed He Has Reached Canada with From $3,000 to $4,000.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHEYENE, Wyo., March 26.—Fifteen months ago James Grant arrived at Fort Laramie as a recruit. He was prepossessing, intelligent and well educated, and was soon promoted to a Corporalship. Gaining the confidence of Joseph Roseburg, a Jewish private soldier who had saved several thousand dollars by long service, he induced him to form a partnership to loan money to the soldiers from pay day to pay day at 10 per cent. per month. The next step was to borrow money, paying 5 per cent. per month interest. A banking business of large dimensions was done, many officers loaning money or having pay warrants discounted. Saturday last, when the soldiers were paid off, Grant is said to have collected $2,000 of the loans of the previous month. With this and $3,000 or $4,000 more, all assets of the firm, he left the place on a horse belonging to one of the officers. It is feared he will reach Canada with the money.

DIED.

HASBROUCK—At Port Ewen, N. Y., on March 25, 1889, Josiah Hasbrouck, M. D., of heart failure, aged 59 years.

Funeral on Wednesday, at 11 A. M., from the Reformed Dutch Church, at Port Ewen. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

ENORMOUS FORTUNES.

Notwithstanding the enormous fortunes accumulated through the use of printer's ink, large sums of money are annually wasted in ineffectual and unremunerative advertising.

The merits of a really valuable commodity properly portrayed in the columns of an influential and widely read newspaper, like The Freeman, will speedily become generally known and appreciated, while the returns reaped by the advertiser will be like those of the wise husbandman who "planted his seed in good ground, wherein it bore fruit and brought forth, some an hundred fold, some sixty, some thirty."

The wording of an advertisement is an all-important matter.

Clearness, attractiveness, brevity and sincerity must characterize any announcement intended to catch the public eye and appeal to public confidence. An advertisement inserted in a London journal a few days ago brought instant and multitudinous replies, accompanied by an almost unlimited supply of bank notes, simply because it touched the chord of nature which makes all mankind akin. Its simple pathos and self-evident truthfulness appealed to every heart.

The advertiser sought for a lost relative, and, giving his name, said: "I am ill and friendless. My last half crown is expended in paying for this advertisement. Write me at"—[giving the address]. As already stated, nearly every one who read the announcement hastened to relieve the necessities of the sufferer—a real sufferer in this case, though many swindles are perpetrated in the divine name of charity.

Thus it is with a really meritorious commodity or preparation; if its virtues be properly and truthfully set forth in the public press, its success is prompt and certain.

On the other hand, the public is quick and unerring to detect deception and charlatanry; and, accordingly, no amount of "puffery" will force a vile nostrum into public esteem and patronage. Untold sums have been sunk in vain efforts to advertise into popularity so-called medical preparations which did not possess the virtues or properties claimed for them.

Valuable medicines, however, like Warner's Safe Cure and Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla, carry their own best commendation in their power to cure the particular diseases for which they are a specific.

They require no labored panegyric to convince the people of their power and efficacy, for they have been tried and found perfect.

Nature's remedies, by their own intrinsic merits have conferred a lasting boon upon mankind, and they have secured an enviable reputation and unlimited sale throughout the civilized world.

In your preparation for house keeping or house cleaning, you will find us ready, if Carpets, Oil Cloth, Mattings, Shades or Curtains are needed.

FAIR PLAY FOR THE VETERANS.

The transfer of the Pension Bureau to the charge of Corporal Tanner will break up one very vicious practice adopted by the late administration. The employment of ex-Confederate spies to traverse the North and find out everything possible to the detriment of any and every applicant for a pension will no longer be permitted. It seems strange that an old Union soldier like Gen. Black would have sanctioned such a proceeding, but he actually inaugurated it. As soon as Mr. Cleveland's administration was in motion this brigade of old rebel soldiers was started for the North. And not only this, but Democratic Postmasters were instructed to report the same sort of stuff to the Pension Office. By means of this system many deserving veterans were prevented from obtaining the pensions to which they were entitled, and many who were already receiving pensions were cut from the list. Any sort of excuse was available, both at the Pension Bureau and with Mr. Cleveland. Men and women were denied pensions for service actually rendered because this gang of spies succeeded in tracing up some gossip that reflected upon their private characters. Others were denied with sneers because the Commissioner or the President affected to believe that the disease complained of was likely to have been contracted previous to or after service. But the one infamous fact of the whole business was that this army of Confederate spies was allowed to constitute the final court by which the claims of Union soldiers were thrown out at the Pension Office. This caused thousands of claims to be presented to and passed by Congress, and thus brought to Mr. Cleveland the opportunity to show his contempt for the Union soldier which he so industriously improved.

There is to be no more of this bad work. The claim of the soldier or the soldier's widow is going to be treated on its merits. The man who fought for his country will get his reward without going to Congress for it. Hence there will be fewer special pension bills for Congress to pass and President Harrison to sign. Commissioner Tanner is in full sympathy with the soldiers, and will not tolerate lying and slanderous reports concerning them, or allow such to weaken their claim. Every soldier will get his just due, and rejections will be made only in cases of actual fraud.

The malicious methods of "physical wreck" Black and the infamous vetoes of President Cleveland caused the veterans of the Union cause to band together last fall for the overthrow of the Democratic administration. The President, himself a soldier, has placed at the head of the Pension Bureau a veteran who has not gone over to the enemy. If he errs at all it will be on the side of the soldier, for his heart is with the men who wore the blue.

BLACKBALLED A JEW.

The public will be scarcely less surprised to learn that there are Christians in that swell organization of New York Democrats known as the Manhattan Club, than that they have blackballed a Jew. The victim of this remarkable stroke of Democratic disfavor is none other than Hon. Oscar Straus, United States Minister to Turkey, and a member of the large chinaware importing firm of L. Straus & Sons, in Warren street, New York. This Mr. Straus is the same gentleman concerning whom the Democratic newspapers fictitiously reported a quarrel between Secretary Blaine and Postmaster General Wanamaker a few days ago, because the latter wished him to be retained in his present position during the Harrison administration. Though there has never been any quarrel or disagreement, the report had for its foundation the fact that Mr. Wanamaker esteems Mr. Straus very highly as an honorable merchant and has large dealings with his firm.

Two brothers of Mr. Straus had been received as members of the Manhattan club before the fatal blackballs were cast for the most distinguished member of the firm. Many other Jews of good standing had also been admitted into the organization, and the only plausible excuse offered for the rejection of the representative of the United States to the Sublime Porte is that "the Jews were getting too thick," and that unless their admission was stopped they would soon be in a majority. Their ways also are described as offensive to the silk stocking Democrats who rule the club. They talked too loud at the meetings, had too much too say, and sometimes actually neglected to use the spittoons. It was also said concerning them by one of the leading members that there was "an indefinable something which at first irritated and then exasperated the older members of the club." This exasperation finally culminated in the rejection of one of the most distinguished New Yorkers who belong to the race of Disraeli and the Rothschilds, of Montefiore and August Belmont.

Such action is perhaps a natural conclusion to the "campaign of education" through which the Democratic party has just passed. If that campaign thinned the party down into a hopeless minority, it also imbued it with a feeling of exclusiveness. The party that finds nothing more to do in politics is quite apt to organize itself into clubs, all infected with an ambition for social distinction and precedence. The Manhattan has set itself up as the nucleus of the creme de la creme of American Democracy. Of course it has no room for a Jewish merchant with the dust of imported crockery upon his garments. All such will have to go. The audacity that could strike Oscar Straus will not wince over smaller fry.

A VITAL LABOR QUESTION.

In a meeting of striking weavers at Fall River last week, one of the number asked: "If Bob Howard was unable to collect money enough all over the country to carry on the strike of a thousand spinners, how do the nine thousand weavers expect to obtain enough to carry on the struggle indefinitely?" It was a practical question, and one which every sensible man is likely under similar circumstances to revolve in his mind, especially if he has a family depending for subsistence upon his daily labor. The questioner was not "kicking." He had joined the movement and was ready to cast in his lot with the others. But the question was one of life or death to him, and before he put on the crown of martyrdom he perhaps hoped that others would consider it and possibly shrink from precipitate action.

He was disappointed. Jeers and denunciations assailed him from all parts of the hall, and when he started for home he was followed by a mob which grossly insulted him. This incident proved that the movement was directed by rage and not by reason. In their blind anger the weavers were only bent on smashing something. It mattered very little in the condition of temper that prevailed whether they won or lost; if they could vex and injure their employers, they were willing to do it at any cost. It is this temper, added to a natural improvidence and utter inability to look ahead, that is the bane of labor. It springs mainly from envy of the better conditions that follow industry, business sagacity and thrift. And when it controls and dictates the movements of great labor organizations, it turns those organizations into reckless, irresponsible, and sometimes law-breaking mobs.

But the weaver of Fall River who was assailed and insulted because of his question was the one wise and courageous man in that meeting. There might have been others equally wise, but they had not the courage to speak. There might even have been a majority who thought as he did, but if so they felt bound by their obligations and pledges to go with the strikers, and were given no opportunity to test their strength. The country is full of the wrecks of past strikes, the misery resulting from which does not disappear in a day or a year. If there was less ignorance in the imported labor element, less thoughtlessness and indifference to the comfort of families at home, less yearning for a period of idleness at whatever cost, the wise striker of Fall River would get a respectful hearing instead of an outrageous and dangerous attack from a mob.

A KANSAS HEROINE.

She Waxes Angry at Bostonese Rot—Honored at Home.

[From the Chicago Herald.]

A heroine has risen on the western horizon, and her name is Mabel Josephine Clement. She hails from Wichita, Kan., and she has thrown down the gauntlet, and stands ready to thrust through and through with her piercing black eye any wretch who may dare to assail the fair name of her native state.

Not long ago Miss Clement was a pupil at the Laselle Seminary, situated near Boston, the hub of the universe. One would naturally suppose that a maiden who had been raised where the distant howling of wolves mingled with the mother's lullaby, and where the sportive buffalo browzes in the front dooryard, would listen with due humility to aught that might fall from a Boston professor's lips. So, doubtless, thought Professor Bragdon of the seminary. He knows better now. He is a philanthropic and pious man, who believes in relieving the needy, and in converting the heathen. So, one morning this good man cast his eye over the various heathen countries of the globe, and fixed upon Kansas as the most benighted and barbarous. He waxed eloquent in chapel, before his assembled pupils. He had evidently been reading the newspapers, and he spoke of starvation, mortgages, misery, poor crops, big tariff majorities, blizzards; he passed on to wild Western wickedness, and spoke of raising contributions to support clergymen in the most benighted districts. Right in the midst of his peroration, however, the Professor stumbled. He felt fascinated by a strange influence. Looking down he beheld two blazing dark eyes, scintillating with indignation and fairly transfixing him; he heard a fearless feminine voice exclaim: "Rot, rot, rank Bostonese rot!" Moreover, the young lady would make no apology. She wrote home to her father for money, paid her debts, packed her trunks, shook off the dust from her feet, and hied her to the state she loves. Since her arrival home the Kansas press has applauded her to the echo, and she has been the heroine of more than one drawing-room. Kansas need have no fears if her girls are ready to fight for her. Let the slippered grannies of the effete East beware.

THE HUNGRY CROWD.

Laughed at by Well Fed Democrats Who Expect to Go.

[Washington Gossip in New York Tribune.]

One day this week a wag in the Treasury Department was talking with several of his Democratic friends, when a Republican Congressman passed along the corridor, having in tow three very tall, lean-looking men from his district.

"See those fellows, there," said the wag, pointing to the party, "they want places in the departments. You looked just as lank and hungry four years ago when you struck town, and I reckon I did too; and as we have been quite comfortable for four years, and all of us have fattened up considerably, I cannot help thinking of a little episode that happened one Sunday morning in the penitentiary of my state. The comparison is rather rank, boys, but all the same I must tell you the yarn. It was a mild day in February, and sitting over against the stone wall were twenty-five or thirty negro convicts. They were chatting and smoking, and enjoying the warm sunlight. Fat and sleek, with warm prison clothes on, they hadn't a care in the world. Pretty soon the big iron gate swung open, and in came a couple of Deputy Sheriffs, bringing to prison a half dozen of the thinnest looking negroes you ever laid eyes on. They had on high-water jeans trousers and thin clothing generally. They had lain in county jails all winter, and looked utterly miserable. As they passed through the yard there was complete silence among the colored convicts ranged against the wall. One big, burly fellow, who had eyed the procession closely, said to his fellow-prisoners:

"'Mus' be hard times on de outside.'

"If many more lean fellows come nosing around this department, I will come to the conclusion, too, that there have been hard times on the outside."

Married Under Difficulties.

[From the Philadelphia Record.]

At a Memphis museum William Quinn, the lecturer of the place, stood up to marry Venie Caralie, an Albino exhibit. A brother of the bride rushed forward and forbade the banns. "Stand back," said the Justice, "and do not come between those whom the law would join." Nothing daunted, the brother grabbed the bridegroom by the collar and the groom grasped him by the hair. They waltzed around the hall in a hostile embrace, the bride clinging to her chosen, and the Justice following in a trot, repeating the formula required by law. By the time the circuit of the room was completed the Justice announced that the twain were man and wife

It is purely vegetable in its composition, and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. It cures all those weaknesses and ailments peculiar to women, and it is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

SHILOH'S VITALIZER is what you need for Constipation, Loss of Appetite, Dizziness and all symptoms of Dyspepsia. Price 10 and 75 cents per bottle For sale by F. J. R. Clarke, Kingston.

A GREAT BATTLE

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

WHY WILL YOU cough when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief. Price 10 cts., 50 cts. and $1. Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

IT IS FOOLISH

To send for the doctor every time you don't feel just right. My doctor's bill for years was over a hundred dollars a year, which made a pretty big hole in my wages. For the past two years I only spent ten dollars, with which I bought a dozen bottles of Sulphur Bitters, and health has been in my family since using them.—Robert Johnson, Machinist.

When Macbeth ironically asked: "Canst thou minister to a mind diseased?" he little knew that mankind would one day be blessed with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In purifying the blood, this powerful alterative gives tone and strength to every function and faculty of the system.

THE REV. GEO. H. THAYER, of Bourbon, Ind. says: "Both myself and wife owe our lives to SHILOH'S CONSUMPTION CURE." Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

They are the only reliable pain-killing plasters known—soothing and strengthening—the Hop Plasters.

A LUCKY MAN.

Mr. Lyman Crawford, Druggist, of Springfield, Mass., says: For years I was afflicted with kidney disease in its worst form, and I state, with a perfect recollection of all that was done for me, that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y., gave me permanent relief.

If your druggist does not keep the medicine address the proprietor, Rondout, N. Y.

THE VERDICT UNANIMOUS.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of rheumatism of ten years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my twenty years' experience is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only half a dollar a bottle, at VanDeusen Brothers', Rondout, and F. J. R. Clarke's, Kingston, drug stores.

A NASAL INJECTOR free with each bottle of Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

HOW TO SAVE LIFE.

What is a cough? It is an irritation of the throat and lungs. What causes it? Congestion. Stop the congestion, the irritation ceases and the cough is cured. But how to stop the congestion! Ah, there is just where physicians have always been puzzled. But it must be checked, or pneumonia, quick consumption or some terrible pulmonary disease will follow. Some doctors give cod liver oil others cough syrups, but the most advanced prescribe stimulants. Nature must be assisted. Pure whiskey will do it. See what physicians say:

Prof. Austin Flint, of Bellevue (New York) College, says: "The judicious use of alcoholic stimulants is one of the striking characteristics of progress in the practice of medicine during the last half century."

Professor Henry A. Mott, of New-York, says: "The purity of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey (as simple analytical test will readily convince a physician or an expert) should certainly recommend it to the highest public favor."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is a certain cure and preventive of congestion and should be kept in every family. It is sold by all druggists and dealers. Be sure and secure the genuine.

FAIR PLAY FOR THE VETERANS.

The transfer of the Pension Bureau to the charge of Corporal Tanner will break up one very vicious practice adopted by the late administration. The employment of ex-Confederate spies to traverse the North and find out everything possible to the detriment of any and every applicant for a pension will no longer be permitted. It seems strange that an old Union soldier like Gen. Black would have sanctioned such a proceeding, but he actually inaugurated it. As soon as Mr. Cleveland's administration was in motion this brigade of old rebel soldiers was started for the North. And not only this, but Democratic Postmasters were instructed to report the same sort of stuff to the Pension Office. By means of this system many deserving veterans were prevented from obtaining the pensions to which they were entitled, and many who were already receiving pensions were cut from the list. Any sort of excuse was available, both at the Pension Bureau and with Mr. Cleveland. Men and women were denied pensions for service actually rendered because this gang of spies succeeded in tracing up some gossip that reflected upon their private characters. Others were denied with sneers because the Commissioner or the President affected to believe that the disease complained of was likely to have been contracted previous to or after service. But the one infamous fact of the whole business was that this army of Confederate spies was allowed to constitute the final court by which the claims of Union soldiers were thrown out at the Pension Office. This caused thousands of claims to be presented to and passed by Congress, and thus brought to Mr. Cleveland the opportunity to show his contempt for the Union soldier which he so industriously improved.

There is to be no more of this bad work. The claim of the soldier or the soldier's widow is going to be treated on its merits. The man who fought for his country will get his reward without going to Congress for it. Hence there will be fewer special pension bills for Congress to pass and President Harrison to sign. Commissioner Tanner is in full sympathy with the soldiers, and will not tolerate lying and slanderous reports concerning them, or allow such to weaken their claim. Every soldier will get his just due, and rejections will be made only in cases of actual fraud.

The malicious methods of "physical wreck" Black and the infamous vetoes of President Cleveland caused the veterans of the Union cause to band together last fall for the overthrow of the Democratic administration. The President, himself a soldier, has placed at the head of the Pension Bureau a veteran who has not gone over to the enemy. If he errs at all it will be on the side of the soldier, for his heart is with the men who wore the blue.

BLACKBALLED A JEW.

The public will be scarcely less surprised to learn that there are Christians in that swell organization of New York Democrats known as the Manhattan Club, than that they have blackballed a Jew. The victim of this remarkable stroke of Democratic disfavor is none other than Hon. Oscar Straus, United States Minister to Turkey, and a member of the large chinaware importing firm of L. Straus & Sons, in Warren street, New York. This Mr. Straus is the same gentleman concerning whom the Democratic newspapers fictitiously reported a quarrel between Secretary Blaine and Postmaster General Wanamaker a few days ago, because the latter wished him to be retained in his present position during the Harrison administration. Though there has never been any quarrel or disagreement, the report had for its foundation the fact that Mr. Wanamaker esteems Mr. Straus very highly as an honorable merchant and has large dealings with his firm.

Two brothers of Mr. Straus had been received as members of the Manhattan club before the fatal blackballs were cast for the most distinguished member of the firm. Many other Jews of good standing had also been admitted into the organization, and the only plausible excuse offered for the rejection of the representative of the United States to the Sublime Porte is that "the Jews were getting too thick," and that unless their admission was stopped they would soon be in a majority. Their ways also are described as offensive to the silk stocking Democrats who rule the club. They talked too loud at the meetings, had too much too say, and sometimes actually neglected to use the spittoons. It was also said concerning them by one of the leading members that there was "an indefinable something which at first irritated and then exasperated the older members of the club." This exasperation finally culminated in the rejection of one of the most distinguished New Yorkers who belong to the race of Disraeli and the Rothschilds, of Montefiore and August Belmont.

Such action is perhaps a natural conclusion to the "campaign of education" through which the Democratic party has just passed. If that campaign thinned the party down into a hopeless minority, it also imbued it with a feeling of exclusiveness. The party that finds nothing more to do in politics is quite apt to organize itself into clubs, all infected with an ambition for social distinction and precedence. The Manhattan has set itself up as the nucleus of the creme de la creme of American Democracy. Of course it has no room for a Jewish merchant with the dust of imported crockery upon his garments. All such will have to go. The audacity that could strike Oscar Straus will not wince over smaller fry.

A VITAL LABOR QUESTION.

In a meeting of striking weavers at Fall River last week, one of the number asked: "If Bob Howard was unable to collect money enough all over the country to carry on the strike of a thousand spinners, how do the nine thousand weavers expect to obtain enough to carry on the struggle indefinitely?" It was a practical question, and one which every sensible man is likely under similar circumstances to revolve in his mind, especially if he has a family depending for subsistence upon his daily labor. The questioner was not "kicking." He had joined the movement and was ready to cast in his lot with the others. But the question was one of life or death to him, and before he put on the crown of martyrdom he perhaps hoped that others would consider it and possibly shrink from precipitate action.

He was disappointed. Jeers and denunciations assailed him from all parts of the hall, and when he started for home he was followed by a mob which grossly insulted him. This incident proved that the movement was directed by rage and not by reason. In their blind anger the weavers were only bent on smashing something. It mattered very little in the condition of temper that prevailed whether they won or lost; if they could vex and injure their employers, they were willing to do it at any cost. It is this temper, added to a natural improvidence and utter inability to look ahead, that is the bane of labor. It springs mainly from envy of the better conditions that follow industry, business sagacity and thrift. And when it controls and dictates the movements of great labor organizations, it turns those organizations into reckless, irresponsible, and sometimes lawbreaking mobs.

But the weaver of Fall River who was assailed and insulted because of his question was the one wise and courageous man in that meeting. There might have been others equally wise, but they had not the courage to speak. There might even have been a majority who thought as he did, but if so they felt bound by their obligations and pledges to go with the strikers, and were given no opportunity to test their strength. The country is full of the wrecks of past strikes, the misery resulting from which does not disappear in a day or a year. If there was less ignorance in the imported labor element, less thoughtlessness and indifference to the comfort of families at home, less yearning for a period of idleness at whatever cost, the wise striker of Fall River would get a respectful hearing instead of an outrageous and dangerous attack from a mob.

A KANSAS HEROINE.

She Waxes Angry at Bostonese Rot—Honored at Home.

[From the Chicago Herald.]

A heroine has risen on the western horizon, and her name is Mabel Josephine Clement. She hails from Wichita, Kan., and she has thrown down the gauntlet, and stands ready to thrust through and through with her piercing black eye any wretch who may dare to assail the fair name of her native state.

Not long ago Miss Clement was a pupil at the Laselle Seminary, situated near Boston, the hub of the universe. One would naturally suppose that a maiden who had been raised where the distant howling of wolves mingled with the mother's lullaby, and where the sportive buffalo browzes in the front dooryard, would listen with due humility to aught that might fall from a Boston professor's lips. So, doubtless, thought Professor Bragdon of the seminary. He knows better now. He is a philanthropic and pious man, who believes in relieving the needy, and in converting the heathen. So, one morning this good man cast his eye over the various heathen countries of the globe, and fixed upon Kansas as the most benighted and barbarous. He waxed eloquent in chapel, before his assembled pupils. He had evidently been reading the newspapers, and he spoke of starvation, mortgages, misery, poor crops, big tariff majorities, blizzards; he passed on to wild Western wickedness, and spoke of raising contributions to support clergymen in the most benighted districts. Right in the midst of his peroration, however, the Professor stumbled. He felt fascinated by a strange influence. Looking down he beheld two blazing dark eyes, scintillating with indignation and fairly transfixing him; he heard a fearless feminine voice exclaim: "Rot, rot, rank Bostonese rot!" Moreover, the young lady would make no apology. She wrote home to her father for money, paid her debts, packed her trunks, shook off the dust from her feet, and hied her to the state she loves. Since her arrival home the Kansas press has applauded her to the echo, and she has been the heroine of more than one drawing-room. Kansas need have no fears if her girls are ready to fight for her. Let the slippered grannies of the effete East beware.

THE HUNGRY CROWD.

Laughed at by Well Fed Democrats Who Expect to Go.

[Washington Gossip in New York Tribune.]

One day this week a wag in the Treasury Department was talking with several of his Democratic friends, when a Republican Congressman passed along the corridor, having in tow three very tall, lean-looking men from his district.

"See those fellows, there," said the wag, pointing to the party, "they want places in the departments. You looked just as lank and hungry four years ago when you struck town, and I reckon I did too; and as we have been quite comfortable for four years, and all of us have fattened up considerably, I cannot help thinking of a little episode that happened one Sunday morning in the penitentiary of my state. The comparison is rather rank, boys, but all the same I must tell you the yarn. It was a mild day in February, and sitting over against the stone wall were twenty-five or thirty negro convicts. They were chatting and smoking, and enjoying the warm sunlight. Fat and sleek, with warm prison clothes on, they hadn't a care in the world. Pretty soon the big iron gate swung open, and in came a couple of Deputy Sheriffs, bringing to prison a half dozen of the thinnest looking negroes you ever laid eyes on. They had on high-water jeans trousers and thin clothing generally. They had lain in county jails all winter, and looked utterly miserable. As they passed through the yard there was complete silence among the colored convicts ranged against the wall. One big, burly fellow, who had eyed the procession closely, said to his fellow-prisoners:

"'Mus' be hard times on de outside.'

"If many more lean fellows come nosing around this department, I will come to the conclusion, too, that there have been hard times on the outside."

Married Under Difficulties.

[From the Philadelphia Record.]

At a Memphis museum William Quinn, the lecturer of the place, stood up to marry Venie Caralie, an Albino exhibit. A brother of the bride rushed forward and forbade the banns. "Stand back," said the Justice, "and do not come between those whom the law would join." Nothing daunted, the brother grabbed the bridegroom by the collar and the groom grasped him by the hair. They waltzed around the hall in a hostile embrace, the bride clinging to her chosen, and the Justice following in a trot, repeating the formula required by law. By the time the circuit of the room was completed the Justice announced that the twain were man and wife

A merchant's clerk wrote a check for forty dollars, and spelled the numerical adjective "f-o-u-r-t-y." His employer directed his attention to the error, with the remark, "you seem to have a bad spell this morning," to which the clerk replied, "sure enough; I've left out the 'g-h'"! Let us hope the clerk will still further amend his orthography, meanwhile. A GREAT BATTLE

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

WHY WILL YOU cough when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief. Price 10 cts., 50 cts. and $1. Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

IT IS FOOLISH

To send for the doctor every time you don't feel just right. My doctor's bill for years was over a hundred dollars a year, which made a pretty big hole in my wages. For the past two years I only spent ten dollars, with which I bought a dozen bottles of Sulphur Bitters, and health has been in my family since using them.—Robert Johnson, Machinist.

When Macbeth ironically asked: "Canst thou minister to a mind diseased?" he little knew that mankind would one day be blessed with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In purifying the blood, this powerful alterative gives tone and strength to every function and faculty of the system.

THE REV. GEO. H. THAYER, of Bourbon, Ind. says: "Both myself and wife owe our lives to SHILOH'S CONSUMPTION CURE." Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

A LUCKY MAN.

Mr. Lyman Crawford, Druggist, of Springfield, Mass., says: For years I was afflicted with kidney disease in its worst form, and I state, with a perfect recollection of all that was done for me, that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y., gave me permanent relief.

If your druggist does not keep the medicine address the proprietor, Rondout, N. Y.

THE VERDICT UNANIMOUS.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of rheumatism of ten years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my twenty years' experience is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. HOW TO SAVE LIFE.

What is a cough? It is an irritation of the throat and lungs. What causes it? Congestion. Stop the congestion, the irritation ceases and the cough is cured. But how to stop the congestion! Ah, there is just where physicians have always been puzzled. But it must be checked, or pneumonia, quick consumption or some terrible pulmonary disease will follow. Some doctors give cod liver oil others cough syrups, but the most advanced prescribe stimulants. Nature must be assisted. Pure whiskey will do it. See what physicians say:

Prof. Austin Flint, of Bellevue (New York) College, says: "The judicious use of alcoholic stimulants is one of the striking characteristics of progress in the practice of medicine during the last half century."

Professor Henry A. Mott, of New-York, says: "The purity of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey (as simple analytical test will readily convince a physician or an expert) should certainly recommend it to the highest public favor."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is a certain cure and preventive of congestion and should be kept in every family. It is sold by all druggists and dealers. Be sure and secure the genuine.

The Old Doctors

Drew blood, modern doctors cleanse it, hence the increased demand for Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due not to over-abundance, but impurity of the blood, and it is equally well attested that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies, for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal. But it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine was necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being above all others, we used it with marvelous results. The sore healed and health and strength rapidly returned."—J. J. Armstrong, Weimar, Texas.

"I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be an admirable remedy for the cure of blood diseases. I prescribe it, and it does the work every time."—E. L. Pater, M. D., Manhattan, Kansas.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommended it when asked to name the best blood-purifier."—W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

"Ayer's medicines continue to be the stan l ard remedies in spite of all competition."—T. W Richmond, Bear Lake, Mich.

★ BRIGHT'S DISEASE. ★

A Ten-Year-Old Child Saved After the Failure of Four Physicians.

My little girl, ten years of age, was taken sick in March, 1888, with scarlet fever. When recovering she took a severe cold, which developed Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Her ankles, feet and eyes were terribly swollen, she had a burning fever, and all the symptoms of an aggravated case of Bright's Disease. Four of our best physicians attended her, but without success, and

Her Life was Despaired of.

But a mother's love and prayers surmount all difficu'ities, and I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y. This was a last resort, and I hoped, although my ittle daughter's case was a very severe one, that the Favorite Remedy would do for her what it had done for others whose condition had not been, seemingly, as hopeless. How happy I am that I determined upon this course—for an improvement was at once perceptible. The fever left her—her appetite improved—she gained six pounds in a short time, and one by one the well known and dreaded symptoms of the disease left her. Words fail to express my gratitude and I cannot too earnestly recommend he Favorite Remedy. It was and is due entirely to the Favorite Remedy, which was the only medicine taken after her case was abandoned by the physicians.

Mrs. Laura A. Kempton, West Rutland, Vermont.

The diseases that follow Scarlet Fever, Measles, Diphtheria and various other complaints often leave behind them sequelias of the most obstinate and dangerous character. To expel all traces of such disorders, tone up the various organs, and fill the veins with pure and nutritious blood, use

CROWN PRINCE'S DEATH.

ALLEGED TRUE STATEMENT OF EVENTS THAT LED TO THE TRAGEDY.

Fell in Love With a Young Girl—Four Calves That Will Cost Twenty Thousand Dollars—Indians Who Defy the Military—Base Ball, Etc.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

DETROIT, March 26.—Maurice Hardtmuth, of Vienna, a member of the Vienna and London firm of F. Hardtmuth & Company, who is now traveling in this country, was interviewed by the Free Press last night. In answer to a question as to feeling in Austria over the tragic death of the Crown Prince, he said: "It is regarded as a most unhappy and deplorable event. A friend of mine gave me the true facts of the case. He was with the Crown Prince on his hunting expedition, and was to a large extent his confidant. The Crown Prince was madly in love with a beautiful and pure young girl, and desired to obtain a divorce from his wife for the purpose of marrying her. This the Emperor would not listen to, and much trouble resulted between him and the heir to the throne. Then the latter wrote directly to the Pope, appealing for his intervention, but that dignitary returned the letter to the Emperor. The next scheme on the part of the Crown Prince was a marriage of the left hand only, of course an unholy bond of union. This was also defeated by the Emperor, after which the young people determined to die together. The reason that the Crown Prince was buried in gloves was because two of his fingers were broken and his hand badly bruised by a friend in endeavoring to wrest the fatal revolver from his grasp.

Latest Phase of the Interminable Jones County Calf Case in Iowa.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WATERLOO, Ia., March 26.—Judge Lenehan's decision in the latest phase of the interminable Jones County calf case was filed, yesterday. He overruled the motion of the defense for a verdict against the plaintiff on the special findings of the jury and rendered judgment against the defendants for $1,000 and costs, which will amount to $3,500. The only one of seven defendants who was exempted from the judgment was Harmon Kellar, who died last week. The defense will take the case to the Supreme Court on the claim that the special findings of the jury were to the effect that the defendants were acting under advice of counsel when they had the plaintiff indicted in 1874 for larceny. The four calves that were the cause of this trouble promise to cost over $20,000 when the case is finally ended.

A WOMAN'S DISCOVERY.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this County. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption and was so much relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus write W. C. Hamrick & Co., Shelby, N. C. Get a free trial bottle at Van Deusen Bros. and F. J. R. Clarke's drug stores.

COMMON AIR.

The breath of life is conveyed to every part of the human lungs by means of a system of fine vessels called the bronchial tubes. When these are clogged up by an accumulation of mucous, so that breathing is very difficult, especially after any exertion, a person has the leading symptoms of Asthma or Phthisic. Besides this the tubes are often reduced to much less than their natural diameter by spasmodic contraction; often nearly suffocating the sufferer. Whether the case is of long standing or not, Dr. David Kennedy's Cherry Balsam is the most efficacious known remedy. It at once loosens the mucous matter, and causes it to be ejected by a free and easy expectoration. The Balsam in such cases should be taken in larger doses than for a common Cough, and no harm is done if some vomiting results. Take particular notice that if the disease is complicated with a dyspeptic state of the stomach Kennedy's Favorite Remedy must be used to correct the digestion. The case must be very severe that will not rapidly improve under this treatment.

The Old Doctors

Drew blood, modern doctors cleanse it, hence the increased demand for Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due not to over-abundance, but impurity of the blood, and it is equally well attested that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies, for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal. But it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine was necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being above all others, we used it with marvelous results. The sore healed and health and strength rapidly returned."—J. J. Armstrong, Weimar, Texas.

"I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be an admirable remedy for the cure of blood diseases. I prescribe it, and it does the work every time."—E. L. Pater, M. D., Manhattan, Kansas.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommended it when asked to name the best blood-purifier."—W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

"Ayer's medicines continue to be the standard remedies in spite of all competition."—T. W Richmond, Bear Lake, Mich.

★ BRIGHT'S DISEASE. ★

A Ten-Year-Old Child Saved After the Failure of Four Physicians.

My little girl, ten years of age, was taken sick in March, 1888, with scarlet fever. When recovering she took a severe cold, which developed Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Her ankles, feet and eyes were terribly swollen, she had a burning fever, and all the symptoms of an aggravated case of Bright's Disease. Four of our best physicians attended her, but without success, and

Her Life was Despaired of.

But a mother's love and prayers surmount all difficulties, and I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y. This was a last resort, and I hoped, although my little daughter's case was a very severe one, that the Favorite Remedy would do for her what it had done for others whose condition had not been, seemingly, as hopeless. How happy I am that I determined upon this course—for an improvement was at once perceptible. The fever left her—her appetite improved—she gained six pounds in a short time, and one by one the well known and dreaded symptoms of the disease left her. Words fail to express my gratitude and I cannot too earnestly recommend the Favorite Remedy. It was and is due entirely to the Favorite Remedy, which was the only medicine taken after her case was abandoned by the physicians.

Mrs. Laura A. Kempton, West Rutland, Vermont.

The diseases that follow Scarlet Fever, Measles, Diphtheria and various other complaints often leave behind them sequelas of the most obstinate and dangerous character. To expel all traces of such disorders, tone up the various organs, and fill the veins with pure and nutritious blood, use

CROWN PRINCE'S DEATH.

ALLEGED TRUE STATEMENT OF EVENTS THAT LED TO THE TRAGEDY.

Fell in Love With a Young Girl—Four Calves That Will Cost Twenty Thousand Dollars—Indians Who Defy the Military—Base Ball, Etc.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

DETROIT, March 26.—Maurice Hardtmuth, of Vienna, a member of the Vienna and London firm of F. Hardtmuth & Company, who is now traveling in this country, was interviewed by the Free Press last night. In answer to a question as to feeling in Austria over the tragic death of the Crown Prince, he said: "It is regarded as a most unhappy and deplorable event. A friend of mine gave me the true facts of the case. He was with the Crown Prince on his hunting expedition, and was to a large extent his confidant. The Crown Prince was madly in love with a beautiful and pure young girl, and desired to obtain a divorce from his wife for the purpose of marrying her. This the Emperor would not listen to, and much trouble resulted between him and the heir to the throne. Then the latter wrote directly to the Pope, appealing for his intervention, but that dignitary returned the letter to the Emperor. The next scheme on the part of the Crown Prince was a marriage of the left hand only, of course an unholy bond of union. This was also defeated by the Emperor, after which the young people determined to die together. The reason that the Crown Prince was buried in gloves was because two of his fingers were broken and his hand badly bruised by a friend in endeavoring to wrest the fatal revolver from his grasp.

THE FOUR CALVES WILL COST $20,000.

Latest Phase of the Interminable Jones County Calf Case in Iowa.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WATERLOO, Ia., March 26.—Judge Lenehan's decision in the latest phase of the interminable Jones County calf case was filed, yesterday. He overruled the motion of the defense for a verdict against the plaintiff on the special findings of the jury and rendered judgment against the defendants for $1,000 and costs, which will amount to $3,500. The only one of seven defendants who was exempted from the judgment was Harmon Kellar, who died last week. The defense will take the case to the Supreme Court on the claim that the special findings of the jury were to the effect that the defendants were acting under advice of counsel when they had the plaintiff indicted in 1874 for larceny. The four calves that were the cause of this trouble promise to cost over $20,000 when the case is finally ended.

A WOMAN'S DISCOVERY.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this County. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption and was so much relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus write W. C. Hamrick & Co., Shelby, N. C. Get a free trial bottle at Van Deusen Bros. and F. J. R. Clarke's drug stores.

A FEW POINTERS.

The recent statistics of the number of deaths show that the large majority die with consumption. The disease may commence with an apparently harmless cough, which can be cured instantly by Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs, which is guaranteed to cure and relieve all cases. Price 50c. and $1. Trial size free. For sale by all druggists.

If you have the bronchitis, you often are hoarse,
Your throat's raw and smarting; you're hacking, of course;
And if you're not careful, the first thing you know,
Your lungs are attacked, and disease lays you low.

By using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, bronchial affections and all kindred complaints can be cured, but if neglected, they often terminate in consumption.

For 15 years I was annoyed with severe pain in my head and discharges in my throat from catarrh. My sense of smell was much impaired. By the use of Ely's Cream Balm I have overcome these troubles.—J. B. Case, St. Denis Hotel, N. Y.

Symptoms—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. Swayne's Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cent. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia.

CARRY THEM IN YOUR POCKET.

COMMON AIR.

The breath of life is conveyed to every part of the human lungs by means of a system of fine vessels called the bronchial tubes. When these are clogged up by an accumulation of mucous, so that breathing is very difficult, especially after any exertion, a person has the leading symptoms of Asthma or Phthisic. Besides this the tubes are often reduced to much less than their natural diameter by spasmodic contraction; often nearly suffocating the sufferer. Whether the case is of long standing or not. Dr. David Kennedy's Cherry Balsam is the most efficacious known remedy. It at once loosens the mucous matter, and causes it to be ejected by a free and easy expectoration. The Balsam in such cases should be taken in larger doses than for a common Cough, and no harm is done if some vomiting results. Take particular notice that if the disease is complicated with a dyspeptic state of the stomach Kennedy's Favorite Remedy must be used to correct the digestion. The case must be very severe that will not rapidly improve under this treatment.

MARRY YOUR SONS WHEN YOU WILL, YOUR DAUGHTERS WHEN YOU CAN,

But in either case counsel them to use nothing but Hop Ointment for chapped hands and lips, sore nose, cold cracks and rough, pimply skin. Never fails. All druggists, 25 and 50 cents, or mail stamps to Hop Co., New-London, Conn.

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous your wife is, and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her, now why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

WILL YOU SUFFER with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. For sale by F. J. R. Clarke, Kingston.

The universal use of them proves their merits. Hop Plasters, clean, safe effective against pain.

PRESENTED WITH A GAVEL.

THE VISIT OF MIDDLETOWN FIREMEN TO THIS CITY.

They Extend to Wiltwyck Hose Company a Handsome Gift—What Was Said and Done in the Kingston Organization's Parlors.

Last night a committee, consisting of Messrs. F. A. R. Pronk, T. K. DeWitt, George H. Decker, Dr. Douglass, C. C. Lutes, Edward W. VanDuzer and James E. Gibbs, members of Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company, of Middletown, came to Kingston and presented to Wiltwyck Hose Company a gift as a recognition of the hospitality shown the Excelsiors during their visit to Kingston at the firemen's parade and inspection last October. They were met at the station by A. J. Keefe, Walter H. Van Gaasbeek, Charles A. Snyder, C. H. Safford, Chester Styles and Paul Cable, of Wiltwyck Hose, and escorted in carriages to the Eagle Hotel, where they were entertained. Later in the evening members of Wiltwyck Hose Company assembled in their pleasant parlors on Fair-street, when the formal presentation took place. Everett Fowler occupied the Chair.

Mr. Pronk, of the Excelsiors, stated the object of their visit. He said: "I can assure you that we are glad to be with you here on this occasion, and we wish you success and prosperity. May the friendship between the two companies be strengthened, broadened and deepened, until they shall be as one united and happy family." He was followed by George H. Decker, who spoke at length of the pleasure of the visit to Kingston last October, and then taking the box containing the gift he presented it in the following words:

"This Committee is commissioned by the members of the company that we represent, to express to you in the form of this testimonial some appreciation of the friendship and pleasures which, through you, we have been permitted to enjoy. This expression we bring in the form of a gavel. We have selected this because it is the emblem of order. And no organization such as yours has proved itself to be can be symbolized by other than the emblem of order. I present it to you, sir, for this Company, with the sentiment, that the friendship which has sprung up and now exists between us, may be as pure as the ivory from which it is carved, and as chaste as its setting."

Mr. Fowler in accepting the gift spoke of the pleasure with which the gavel would be shown the friends of Wiltwyck Hose Company, and they would be told that it was the gift of "Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company, composed of as fine a body of men as ever visited this ancient City." Mr. Fowler referred to some of the amusing incidents of the long march which he denoted as "showing the visitors the sights of the City." He expressed in the name of the Company, the Wiltwycks' appreciation of the gift and cordially extended the hospitalities of the rooms to Excelsior Hook and Ladder whenever they came to Kingston. In closing he said: "We are glad to see you and only wish you had brought all the members of your company with you. You cannot come too often."

Remarks were made by Foreman A. J. Keefe, F. A. Westbrook, W. H. Becker and Charles H. Safford, of Wiltwycks, and C. C. Lutes, of the Excelsiors.

Among those who welcomed the Committee during the evening was Mayor Newkirk.

The gavel is admired. It is a beautiful gift, being of solid ivory, with a large diamond set in a star on one side of the maul, while on a solid gold plate on the handle is the following inscription:

Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 11, 1888,
Wiltwyck Hose Co., No. 1.
From
Excelsior Hook & Ladder Co., No. 1,
Middletown, N. Y.,
March 25, 1889.

The conservatories of Kingston City florists are now filled with blooming flowers and are interesting places to visit.

The most independent persons in Rondout next week will be the carmen. Their services will be in demand by movers.

The members of the Fourteenth Separate Company, of this City, will participate in a full dress drill in the Armory here, on Thursday night.

PREPARING SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS

For Improving and Grading Chester-Street —The Amount to be Paid.

Assessors' Clerk Winchell is preparing the special assessments for improvements and grading of Chester-street, this City. One assessment is for the eastern portion of that thoroughfare, extending from Union-avenue to Bruyn-street, 25 per cent. of which was paid by the City. The total amount to be paid by the property-owners in that section is $230.25. The other assessment is for top-dressing, etc., on that portion of Chester-street lying between Union-avenue and Jarvis-street. The total amount to be levied there is $1,312.88. In this case the City also paid 25 per cent. of the total cost.

Ordinance Being Enforced.

It begins to look as though sidewalks in portions of this City are hereafter to be utilized to walk upon as well as to show goods and that people will not have to dodge articles of various kinds hung not high enough to clear their heads. Even the peanut stand that stood on the sidewalk on the corner of Union-avenue and The Strand so long has been removed.

The Mortuary Record.

Robert W. Courtney, of Unadilla, died one day recently, aged 75. Mr. Courtney represented Delaware County in the Assembly in 1863.

Edwin Thorn, the well-known horseman, died at the home of his sister, on Fifth-avenue, New-York City, on Monday. He was 67 years of age.

IN AND OUT OF PORT OF RONDOUT.

A Lively Locality—Arrival and Departure of Tows—Change of Name.

The propeller J. H. Cordts will take a tow of boats to the Metropolis to-night.

The opening of navigation has disposed of nearly all the formerly idle men in Rondout.

To-day the steamboat George A. Hoyt went to Albany with a tow from the Port of Rondout.

The whistle of the steamboat James W. Baldwin was blown at the mouth of the Rondout Creek, last night, at 10:10 o'clock.

The name of the propeller Sarah A. Brown has been changed to Peekskill. It will run between Peekskill and New-York City this season.

The vicinity of Derrenbacher's Corner, Rondout, has been a lively locality for the past two days. It is the starting point for those who go up the Delaware & Hudson Canal.

When the steamboat Jacob H. Tremper arrived at its dock, in Rondout, to-day, it displayed a number of flags. It was welcomed by the ringing of the steamboat James W. Baldwin's bell.

The steamboat Pittston to-day towed a large number of Delaware & Hudson Canal boats to Eddyville from the "Steamboat Dock," Rondout. It is said boats are not passing through Eddyville as rapidly as in previous years. The cause is attributed to the circumstance that the lock at that point has been repaired during the past winter, and is not working smoothly yet.

When the propeller J. H. Cordts left New-York last night, the following craft were reported in its tow: Ice barges Hamilton, to Yonkers; Washburn, to Catskill; Commonwealth, No. 3, to Esopus; ice boats Blanch, to Castleton; H. J. Newton, to Greenbush; barges Providence, to Rondout; J. S. Peck, Dr. Basten, to Yonkers; J. A. Crawford, Stonyside, to Malden; boats Charles H. Parks, James Dunn, S. R. W. Heath, to Rondout; E. Howard, to Albany; Netter, Topsie, to Troy; schooners Victor Ping, Lenora, to Eddyville; Delaware & Hudson Canal boats, to Rondout.

SOME INTERESTING SOCIETY NOTES.

Regular Conclave Rondout Commandery, No. 52, K. T.—Jubilee, Etc.

A regular conclave of Rondout Commandery, No. 52, K. T., will be held to-morrow evening.

The Third Degree will be conferred in Kingston Lodge No. 10, F. & A. M., this evening.

At the next meeting of Ulster Lodge, No. 76, Knights of Pythias, five propositions for membership will be considered.

No definite arrangements have yet been made by Kingston City and Ulster County Masons to celebrate the Jubilee commemorating the extinguishment of the Masonic debt in New-York State. The debt at one time amounted to $1,500,000. The date recommended by the Grand Master is Wednesday, April 24.

Among the adornments of the rooms of Rondout Lodge, No. 343, F. & A. M., is a life-size bust portrait of the late Lorenzo A. Sykes, who for many years was the Superintendent of the Rondout Department of the Delaware & Hudson Canal, and who took a lively interest in the old village of Rondout, and was for years a Trustee and President of the Board. The picture is the work of the younger John Vanderlyn. It is an excellent portrait, and is highly prized by the Lodge, of which Mr. Sykes was Master.

THE RECORD OF CITY AMUSEMENTS.

Daniel Sully Last Night in Kingston Opera House—Murray and Murphy.

This evening, at 26 North-Front-street, Kingston, Madam Nora's troupe of Glass Blowers will commence a week's engagement. Among the many pretty things that will be on exhibition will be the glass steam engine "Excelsior." Every visitor will receive a present.

To-night, in Kingston Opera House, "Our Irish Visitors" will be presented by Murray & Murphy, supported by a strong company. The play is a "nondescript" comedy. The comedy, it is said, has been reconstructed and enhanced in value by the introduction of new and humorous Irish situations, and as now produced is a happy conglomeration of refined mirth.

A large audience greeted Daniel Sully and his Company last night in Kingston Opera House in his play of "Daddy Nolan." The play itself is bright, clean and humorous. There is not a dull moment in it. The audience, judging from the frequent and prolonged applause, was pleased. In the last act was a pretty bit of stage setting, showing the East River, Brooklyn Bridge and New-York, as seen from Brooklyn Heights.

IN COURT OF SESSIONS, KINGSTON.

Case of The People vs. Daniel D. Bell Still in Progress.

In the Court of Sessions, which is in progress in Kingston, the case of The people vs. Daniel D. Bell, is still on trial. The prosecution has not yet finished. Among the witnesses who have testified this week are Norman Depuy, D. W. Sparling, County Clerk Wurts and Surrogate Carpenter, to matters pertaining to conversations and records. Charles Burbans, James E. Ostrander and Charles W. Deyo, bank officers, gave their opinion in regard to the handwriting of the deed in question, and signature of John J. Snyder. Eliza McCoun, Henry T. McCoun, her husband, Elizabeth T. Chatfield and other witnesses were called, to show that Helena DePuy, at the time the deed was purported to have been executed, July 13, 1857, was at Newburgh, visiting Lucas E. Schoonmaker and wife. Much of the session to-day was taken up with the examination of Daniel T. Ames, an expert.

PEOPLE WHO LEAN ON SHOW CASES.

A Rondout Merchant's Complaint—Charged With Electricity.

"Next to the shop-lifter," said a Rondout merchant, to-day, "the worst people we have to contend with are the persons who insist on 'taking a lean' on show-cases. It is useless to paste signs or notices inside the glass, for little or no attention is paid to them. Then, again, it does not look well to tell a man that you have a lounge in a back room, where he can take a nap; or that the show-case is the strongest one for its size in the United States; or that it makes no difference whether or not his hands are greasy—we have plenty of water. No, sir, he would feel insulted. All we can do is to stand by and watch the glass bend with the weight upon it, every moment expecting to see it demolished. I have given this matter much thought, and am inventing a show-case charged with electricity, by touching a small button on which the 'leaning fiend' can be removed."

RENDERED IN FAVOR OF PLAINTIFF.

A Referee Gives His Decison—The Facts in the Case.

The case of George Weber vs. John Weber, which was recently tried before Referee Walter N. Gill, in Rondout, has been decided. The Referee rendered a judgment of $527 in favor of the plaintiff. The facts in the case were as follows: George and John Weber entered into a copartnership in business. The partnership was subsequently dissolved. John Weber claimed that there was nothing due the plaintiff, whereupon the latter sued for an accounting.

Accidents.

Yesterday John Spalt, employed in the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company's sawmill "Up-the-Dock," Rondout, was struck by a piece of flying wood. One of his arms was badly injured.

A young man named Nathaniel Floyd had the index finger on his right hand badly smashed this forenoon by a "roller" falling upon it in a Rondout carpenter shop. Dr. C. W. Crispell dressed the wound.

An Offensive Appearance.

The practice of throwing ashes and garbage over back fences of door yards on Abeel-street, Rondout, gives the hillside fronting on the Rondout Creek an offensive appearance in the spring, to say the least.

The bazaar which will be held in the lecture room of the St. James M. E. Church, Kingston, on Friday, will begin at 5:30 o'clock in the evening.

The Rev. John R. Lambert, Rector of Christ Church, Red Hook, will preach in St. John's Church, Kingston, to-morrow evening at the 7:30 o'clock service.

Mrs. M. N. Hunt's lecture entitled "The Road to Ruin," which is illustrated by 32 paintings 9x14 feet in size, will be given at the Rondout Presbyterian Chapel, to-morrow evening, under the auspices of the Rondout Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America will meet this year in the Fourth-Avenue Presbyterian Church, New-York, of which the Rev. Dr. Howard Crosby is Pastor. The Assembly will convene on May 16, and continue in session nearly two weeks.

The coming M. E. Conference will probably make no changes in the Pastorates of the three M. E. Churches in this City. The present ministers appear to enjoy the confidence and esteem of their congregations to a high degree. The three churches have added to their membership during the past year.

TWO RECENT FIRES IN MARLBOROUGH.

House Consumed; Loss $2,000—The Work of Bad Boys.

The residence of Cornelius Cronin, in Marlborough, was burned, yesterday forenoon. The fire was discovered by a neighbor burning in the roof near the chimney. Before an alarm could be given, the building was enveloped in flames, and was destroyed. Loss estimated at $2,000. Insurance $600, in Home insurance Company, of New-York. The origin of the fire is laid to a defective flue.

BAD BOYS' WORK.

A number of boys started a fire in the woods adjoining Jew's Creek, in Marlborough, on Sunday afternoon. The fire spread rapidly licking the leaves and dry wood. At 8 o'clock in the evening the flames had made such progress that it was feared, if not extinguished, the village would be reached before daylight, and a disastrous conflagration ensue. Accordingly a gang of fire-fighters was organized. The men worked until about 11 o'clock, at which time the fire was put out. The blaze illuminated the surroundings, casting a bright light upon the buildings in the village.

IN ULSTER SURROGATE'S COURT.

Hearing Had in Matter of Accounting—Found in an Old Trunk.

In Ulster Surrogate's Court, Kingston, today, a hearing was had in the matter of the accounting of the Executors of the estate of Michael Doran.

Abner Hasbrouck, of the town of Gardiner, died in 1875, and Oscar Hasbrouck was appointed Administrator of his estate. Mr. Hasbrouck administered on all the property he was able to find, and in 1878 made his final accounting and was discharged by the Surrogate. A short time since, while an old trunk of Abner Hasbrouck was being overhauled, a bundle of old papers was found, and in it coupons of bonds issued by the Railroad Commissioners of the town of Gardiner to build the Wallkill Valley Railroad. They were uncancelled, and of the face value of $1,900. Counsellor-at-law Daniel B. Deyo is taking proceedings in order to have this discovery promptly administered upon.

The Shad Season.

The gathering of the shad crop in the Hudson River, it is estimated, gives employment during the season to 3,000 persons.

The first North River shad was caught in Gravesend Bay, yesterday, by W. H. Morris. It was a roe and weighed five pounds.

It is believed the shad season will open early, as there is not much snow and ice to make the water of the Hudson River cold.

On Thursday James W. Pells and other shad fishermen of this vicinity will go down to the Narrows to begin the season's operations and later will return to their fishing grounds at Kingston Point.

Seamy Side.

A description of Joseph Saltzman, the alleged murder of Juliana Multer at Irvington, N. J., has been sent to officers in this City.

[From the Poughkeepsie News-Press.]

Michael Roach, of Staatsburgh, who has been an inmate of the Hudson River State Hospital since last fall, having been adjudged a lunatic six months ago, when he shot his daughter in attempting to shoot his wife, and afterward shot himself, was discharged, on Friday, and returned to the County Jail to await his trial, which will probably take place in June.

"Three for Five Cents."

What are said to be cigars, are sold in this City three for five cents. A dude who appeared to be familiar with that line of goods went into a place here, yesterday, and laid down five cents and picked up four of them. Happening to see the sign—"Three for five cents"—he laid one down and explained that in Pittsburgh, Pa., where they are made, and in many other places they are sold four for five cents. The "cigars" are said to be about as good as the average "twofers."

Sporting Matter.

Kingston City base-ball players are talking of forming a team here. They do not favor the idea of going outside of this City for material. It has been suggested that there is a sufficient number of players here who, with a little practice, would make a creditable showing.

Shipment of Beer Barrels.

A large number of beer barrels, showing the industry in beer drinking here during the past winter, were loaded on a barge in the Rondout Creek yesterday. The mild winter, it is said, made the consumption of beer large and decreased the sale of whiskey.

Handsome Sites.

There are many handsome sites for residences on the high ground in the lower portion of this City. If residences were placed upon them it would add greatly to the appearance of the City as viewed from the Hudson River.

Farmers' Club.

A meeting of the Dutchess and Ulster Farmers' Club was held in Poughkeepsie today. At the morning session "Early Forage Crops" was the subject of discussion. This afternoon the subject was "The Use of Fertilizers."

A Matter of Importance.

Notwithstanding all the advantages of sewerage, etc., it is said the most important work for the benefit of the health of the people of a city is properly removing garbage and looking after outbuildings.

Shooting Muskrats.

Many muskrats are being shot on the "flats" at Sleightburgh by men who are hauling from that place canal boats which have been "wintering" there.

Cause for a Building Boom.

It is said most of the 40 men employed in the new shoe factory at Saugerties, desire to rent houses there but cannot do so on account of the scarcity of dwellings.

Paper Milk Cans.

Paper milk cans, weighing only 18 pounds, are being manufactured. It is claimed they will keep milk sweet 12 or 15 hours longer than tin cans.

EDUCATIONAL MATTERS.

MEETING OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES IN KINGSTON LAST NIGHT.

Report of the Finance Committee—Training Class—Number of Pupils Registered And Work that Has Been Accomplished Here.

A meeting of the Kingston Board of Education was held last night. The Trustees present were Gillespie, Shufeldt, Brigham, Connelly and TenBroeck. President Betts presided.

The Finance Committee reported bills audited to the amount of $4,750.

The report of the Collector was read. It stated that $300 had been collected and paid to the Treasurer.

The Treasurer's report showed the following: Account overdrawn as per last report, $5,324.40. Account overdrawn March 25, 1889, $7,332.55. Disbursements since February 25, 1889, $2,525.15. Receipts, $517.

The report of the Committee was adopted.

The Committee on Repairs and Supplies reported that the repairs ordered for No. 15 school were completed.

Reports of Principals of the Academy and the various schools were read.

Principal Cheney, of Kingston Academy, reported: Number pupils registered 209. This he considered an unusually large register for the spring term. New pupils have entered, while some who were in attendance have left. A number of the members of the training class have obtained schools for the summer and are at work. The results of Regents' examinations as an indication of what the teachers have done in the way of instruction, and what the pupils have done in the way of study were satisfactory. In the preliminary subjects, 30 passed in arithmetic; 30 in geography; 27 in grammar; 27 in spelling. * * * "In all we have secured about 350 papers, which, if accepted, will entitle us to a large number of Regents' Academic certificates and State diplomas."

Principal Mower, of School No. 5, reported: Number registered, 316. Average daily attendance, 268. Term examinations have been held in all grades.

Principal Darrow, of School No. 8, reported: Number of pupils in attendance 346. The Principal said: "I have tried various ways to secure attendance, knowing that it was very essential that the pupil should be in school all of the time to get his work done. I got a flag and gave it to the class that made the highest per cent. during the week. It has increased the attendance from two to three per cent." Mr. Darrow further said that good work had been done in the examinations.

Principal Bennett, of School No. 11, reported: Attendance of pupils 294. Examinations have shown unusually good work on the part of teachers, especially in primary department.

Principal Murphy, of School No. 15, reported number of pupils enrolled 93. This school was progressing, everything being in excellent order.

The Principals of the various schools reported considerable illness.

The Committees on Organization and Repairs and Supplies were directed to make estimates of the expenses of the schools for the coming year.

The Board adjourned to the evening of April 24.

OTHER EDUCATIONAL MATTERS.

The spring term of the Delaware Academy at Delhi opened yesterday.

The pupils of Ulster Academy, Rondout, are taking interest in an "exhibition" to be given on Friday before the short Easter vacation.

NOTES ABOUT CURRENT LITERATURE.

The April Number of "Harper's Magazine" —"Scribner's"—Papers, Etc.

Charles Francis Adams's paper on "The Prevention of Railway Strikes," published in the April Scribner's, was written nearly three years ago, but held back by the author for fear that, in existing conditions, it might result in more harm than good. A practical scheme for giving employes a part in the management of the road is suggested.

The frontispiece of Harper's Magazine for April is the Gibbs-Channing portrait of Washington by Gilbert Stuart. Professor John Bach follows with a paper on "Washington's Inauguration," and Bjoinstjeine Bjornson contributes his third and last paper on "Norway and Its People." Benjamin Constant has prepared 12 drawings of scenes in Tangier and Morocco, and has put into his descriptive article some of what he calls the "light, whiteness, brilliancy" of the East.

West Athens.

A hotel will be built on the Burns property near the West Shore depot, this spring.

F. D. Lampman will leave Florence, Kansas, on Saturday next, for his home in this place.

A paper is in the hands of Station Agent Odell for the purpose of establishing a Post-Office at West Athens.

A paper is in circulation for the purpose of buying the Athens and Schoharie turnpike, which will be sold on Saturday, in Catskill. If the town makes the purchase the thoroughfare will be thrown open as a district road.

Milton News.

The Unity Public Hall Association is in a fair way to soon commence the building of a large and substantial public hall. Three thousand dollars has been subscribed. The building to be erected will be two stories high and about 40 by 90 feet on the ground. The lower floor will be used for stores, etc. A portion of the ground floor will be used for a club kitchen and reception room. The upper floor will be fitted for amusement purposes. A meeting of the Association was held on Wednesday night, to consider the purchase of a site.

Brodheads.

One or two city boarders have already arrived here.

Zadoc P. Boice has purchased the standing trees on a valuable wood lot of the Brodhead family.

Mrs. M. N. Hunt, a Quakeress, of Rosendale Plains, preached two excellent sermons in the Shokan Church, on Sunday. On Monday evening Mrs. Hunt exhibited her temperance panorama and lectured in the Church.

The proposed new railroad from Ellenville through the Rondout Valley to intersect with the Wallkill Valley Road at Binnewater, it is believed, will be built. A person living near Stone Ridge, a large land holder, offers the right of way through his lands and $1,000.

SOMETHING WORTH READING.

"A Tin Roof" is the title of a little book just issued by Messrs. Merchant & Co., 517 Arch-street, Philadelphia. The purpose of the publication is to supply to builders, architects and the general public some exact information as to the best methods of constructing a tin roof and as to the right materials to be used to secure satisfactory and permanent results. We especially recommend the book, which is intended for gratuitous distribution, to mill owners. They are very apt to trust the matter of roofing wholly to builders and they usually know really very little about the character of the tin used or the excellence or the defectiveness of the job. This pamphlet will help them to protect their interests. It is very explicit, perfectly comprehensible, and we think wholly trustworthy. It is quite profusely illustrated and the cuts indicate processes of applying tin-roofing which insure excellence.

PRESENTED WITH A GAVEL.

THE VISIT OF MIDDLETOWN FIREMEN TO THIS CITY.

They Extend to Wiltwyck Hose Company a Handsome Gift—What Was Said and Done in the Kingston Organization's Parlors.

Last night a committee, consisting of Messrs. F. A. R. Pronk, T. K. DeWitt, George H. Decker, Dr. Douglass, C. C. Lutes, Edward W. VanDuzer and James E. Gibbs, members of Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company, of Middletown, came to Kingston and presented to Wiltwyck Hose Company a gift as a recognition of the hospitality shown the Excelsiors during their visit to Kingston at the firemen's parade and inspection last October. They were met at the station by A. J. Keefe, Walter H. Van Gaasbeek, Charles A. Snyder, C. H. Safford, Chester Styles and Paul Cable, of Wiltwyck Hose, and escorted in carriages to the Eagle Hotel, where they were entertained. Later in the evening members of Wiltwyck Hose Company assembled in their pleasant parlors on Fair-street, when the formal presentation took place. Everett Fowler occupied the Chair.

Mr. Pronk, of the Excelsiors, stated the object of their visit. He said: "I can assure you that we are glad to be with you here on this occasion, and we wish you success and prosperity. May the friendship between the two companies be strengthened, broadened and deepened, until they shall be as one united and happy family." He was followed by George H. Decker, who spoke at length of the pleasure of the visit to Kingston last October, and then taking the box containing the gift he presented it in the following words:

"This Committee is commissioned by the members of the company that we represent, to express to you in the form of this testimonial some appreciation of the friendship and pleasures which, through you, we have been permitted to enjoy. This expression we bring in the form of a gavel. We have selected this because it is the emblem of order. And no organization such as yours has proved itself to be can be symbolized by other than the emblem of order. I present it to you, sir, for this Company, with the sentiment, that the friendship which has sprung up and now exists between us, may be as pure as the ivory from which it is carved, and as chaste as its setting."

Mr. Fowler in accepting the gift spoke of the pleasure with which the gavel would be shown the friends of Wiltwyck Hose Company, and they would be told that it was the gift of "Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company, composed of as fine a body of men as ever visited this ancient City." Mr. Fowler referred to some of the amusing incidents of the long march which he denoted as "showing the visitors the sights of the City." He expressed in the name of the Company, the Wiltwycks' appreciation of the gift and cordially extended the hospitalities of the rooms to Excelsior Hook and Ladder whenever they came to Kingston. In closing he said: "We are glad to see you and only wish you had brought all the members of your company with you. You cannot come too often."

Remarks were made by Foreman A. J. Keefe, F. A. Westbrook, W. H. Becker and Charles H. Safford, of Wiltwycks, and C. C. Lutes, of the Excelsiors.

Among those who welcomed the Committee during the evening was Mayor Newkirk.

The gavel is admired. It is a beautiful gift, being of solid ivory, with a large diamond set in a star on one side of the maul, while on a solid gold plate on the handle is the following inscription:

Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 11, 1888,
Wiltwyck Hose Co., No. 1.
From
Excelsior Hook & Ladder Co., No. 1,
Middletown, N. Y.,
March 25, 1889.

When the steamboat Jacob H. Tremper arrived at its dock, in Rondout, to-day, it displayed a number of flags. It was welcomed by the ringing of the steamboat James W. Baldwin's bell.

The steamboat Pittston to-day towed a large number of Delaware & Hudson Canal boats to Eddyville from the "Steamboat Dock," Rondout. It is said boats are not passing through Eddyville as rapidly as in previous years. The cause is attributed to the circumstance that the lock at that point has been repaired during the past winter, and is not working smoothly yet.

When the propeller J. H. Cordts left New-York last night, the following craft were reported in its tow: Ice barges Hamilton, to Yonkers; Washburn, to Catskill; Commonwealth, No. 3, to Esopus; ice boats Blanch, to Castleton; H. J. Newton, to Greenbush; barges Providence, to Rondout; J. S. Peck, Dr. Basten, to Yonkers; J. A. Crawford, Stonyside, to Malden; boats Charles H. Parks, James Dunn, S. R. W. Heath, to Rondout; E. Howard, to Albany; Netter, Topsie, to Troy; schooners Victor Ping, Lenora, to Eddyville; Delaware & Hudson Canal boats, to Rondout.

SOME INTERESTING SOCIETY NOTES.

Regular Conclave Rondout Commandery, No. 52, K. T.—Jubilee, Etc.

A regular conclave of Rondout Commandery, No. 52, K. T., will be held to-morrow evening.

The Third Degree will be conferred in Kingston Lodge No. 10, F. & A. M., this evening.

At the next meeting of Ulster Lodge, No. 76, Knights of Pythias, five propositions for membership will be considered.

No definite arrangements have yet been made by Kingston City and Ulster County Masons to celebrate the Jubilee commemorating the extinguishment of the Masonic debt in New-York State. The debt at one time amounted to $1,500,000. The date recommended by the Grand Master is Wednesday, April 24.

Among the adornments of the rooms of Rondout Lodge, No. 343, F. & A. M., is a life-size bust portrait of the late Lorenzo A. Sykes, who for many years was the Superintendent of the Rondout Department of the Delaware & Hudson Canal, and who took a lively interest in the old village of Rondout, and was for years a Trustee and President of the Board. The picture is the work of the younger John Vanderlyn. It is an excellent portrait, and is highly prized by the Lodge, of which Mr. Sykes was Master.

THE RECORD OF CITY AMUSEMENTS.

Daniel Sully Last Night in Kingston Opera House—Murray and Murphy.

This evening, at 26 North-Front-street, Kingston, Madam Nora's troupe of Glass Blowers will commence a week's engagement. Among the many pretty things that will be on exhibition will be the glass steam engine "Excelsior." Every visitor will receive a present.

To-night, in Kingston Opera House, "Our Irish Visitors" will be presented by Murray & Murphy, supported by a strong company. The play is a "nondescript" comedy. The comedy, it is said, has been reconstructed and enhanced in value by the introduction of new and humorous Irish situations, and as now produced is a happy conglomeration of refined mirth.

A large audience greeted Daniel Sully and his Company last night in Kingston Opera House in his play of "Daddy Nolan." The play itself is bright, clean and humorous. There is not a dull moment in it. The audience, judging from the frequent and prolonged applause, was pleased. In the last act was a pretty bit of stage setting, showing the East River, Brooklyn Bridge and New-York, as seen from Brooklyn Heights.

IN COURT OF SESSIONS, KINGSTON.

Case of The People vs. Daniel D. Bell Still in Progress.

In the Court of Sessions, which is in progress in Kingston, the case of The people vs. Daniel D. Bell, is still on trial. The prosecution has not yet finished. Among the witnesses who have testified this week are Norman Depuy, D. W. Sparling, County Clerk Wurts and Surrogate Carpenter, to matters pertaining to conversations and records. Charles Burhans, James E. Ostrander and Charles W. Deyo, bank officers, gave their opinion in regard to the handwriting of the deed in question, and signature of John J. Snyder. Eliza McCoun, Henry T. McCoun, her husband, Elizabeth T. Chatfield and other witnesses were called, to show that Helena DePuy, at the time the deed was purported to have been executed, July 13, 1857, was at Newburgh, visiting Lucas E. Schoonmaker and wife. Much of the session to-day was taken up with the examination of Daniel T. Ames, an expert.

PEOPLE WHO LEAN ON SHOW CASES.

A Rondout Merchant's Complaint—Charged With Electricity.

"Next to the shop-lifter," said a Rondout merchant, to-day, "the worst people we have to contend with are the persons who insist on 'taking a lean' on show-cases. It is useless to paste signs or notices inside the glass, for little or no attention is paid to them. Then, again, it does not look well to tell a man that you have a lounge in a back room, where he can take a nap; or that the show-case is the strongest one for its size in the United States; or that it makes no difference whether or not his hands are greasy—we have plenty of water. No, sir, he would feel insulted. All we can do is to stand by and watch the glass bend with the weight upon it, every moment expecting to see it demolished. I have given this matter much thought, and am inventing a show-case charged with electricity, by touching a small button on which the 'leaning fiend' can be removed."

RENDERED IN FAVOR OF PLAINTIFF.

A Referee Gives His Decison—The Facts in the Case.

The case of George Weber vs. John Weber, which was recently tried before Referee Walter N. Gill, in Rondout, has been decided. The Referee rendered a judgment of $527 in favor of the plaintiff. The facts in the case were as follows: George and John Weber entered into a copartnership in business. The partnership was subsequently dissolved. John Weber claimed that there was nothing due the plaintiff, whereupon the latter sued for an accounting.

Accidents.

Yesterday John Spalt, employed in the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company's sawmill "Up-the-Dock," Rondout, was struck by a piece of flying wood. One of his arms was badly injured.

A young man named Nathaniel Floyd had the index finger on his right hand badly smashed this forenoon by a "roller" falling upon it in a Rondout carpenter shop. Dr. C. W. Crispell dressed the wound.

An Offensive Appearance.

The practice of throwing ashes and garbage over back fences of door yards on Abeel-street, Rondout, gives the hillside fronting on the Rondout Creek an offensive appearance in the spring, to say the least.

PASTORS, PEOPLES AND CHURCHES.

News Garnered in the Religious Field in this City and Vicinity.

The Presbyterian Church of Liberty, Sullivan County, has called the Rev. A. S. Vaughan, now located in New-Jersey.

The Presbyterian Church at Livingston Manor has extended a call to the Rev. Walter Frey, of Downsville, Delaware County.

The bazaar which will be held in the lecture room of the St. James M. E. Church, Kingston, on Friday, will begin at 5:30 o'clock in the evening.

The Rev. John R. Lambert, Rector of Christ Church, Red Hook, will preach in St. John's Church, Kingston, to-morrow evening at the 7:30 o'clock service.

Mrs. M. N. Hunt's lecture entitled "The Road to Ruin," which is illustrated by 32 paintings 9x14 feet in size, will be given at the Rondout Presbyterian Chapel, to-morrow evening, under the auspices of the Rondout Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America will meet this year in the Fourth-Avenue Presbyterian Church, New-York, of which the Rev. Dr. Howard Crosby is Pastor. The Assembly will convene on May 16, and continue in session nearly two weeks.

The coming M. E. Conference will probably make no changes in the Pastorates of the three M. E. Churches in this City. The present ministers appear to enjoy the confidence and esteem of their congregations to a high degree. The three churches have added to their membership during the past year.

TWO RECENT FIRES IN MARLBOROUGH.

House Consumed; Loss $2,000—The Work of Bad Boys.

The residence of Cornelius Cronin, in Marlborough, was burned, yesterday forenoon. The fire was discovered by a neighbor burning in the roof near the chimney. Before an alarm could be given, the building was enveloped in flames, and was destroyed. Loss estimated at $2,000. Insurance $600, in Home insurance Company, of New-York. The origin of the fire is laid to a defective flue.

BAD BOYS' WORK.

A number of boys started a fire in the woods adjoining Jew's Creek, in Marlborough, on Sunday afternoon. The fire spread rapidly licking the leaves and dry wood. At 8 o'clock in the evening the flames had made such progress that it was feared, if not extinguished, the village would be reached before daylight, and a disastrous conflagration ensue. Accordingly a gang of fire-fighters was organized. The men worked until about 11 o'clock, at which time the fire was put out. The blaze illuminated the surroundings, casting a bright light upon the buildings in the village.

IN ULSTER SURROGATE'S COURT.

Hearing Had in Matter of Accounting—Found in an Old Trunk.

In Ulster Surrogate's Court, Kingston, today, a hearing was had in the matter of the accounting of the Executors of the estate of Michael Doran.

Abner Hasbrouck, of the town of Gardiner, died in 1875, and Oscar Hasbrouck was appointed Administrator of his estate. Mr. Hasbrouck administered on all the property he was able to find, and in 1878 made his final accounting and was discharged by the Surrogate. A short time since, while an old trunk of Abner Hasbrouck was being overhauled, a bundle of old papers was found, and in it coupons of bonds issued by the Railroad Commissioners of the town of Gardiner to build the Wallkill Valley Railroad. They were uncancelled, and of the face value of $1,900. Counsellor-at-law Daniel B. Deyo is taking proceedings in order to have this discovery promptly administered upon.

The Shad Season.

The gathering of the shad crop in the Hudson River, it is estimated, gives employment during the season to 3,000 persons.

The first North River shad was caught in Gravesend Bay, yesterday, by W. H. Morris. It was a roe and weighed five pounds.

It is believed the shad season will open early, as there is not much snow and ice to make the water of the Hudson River cold.

On Thursday James W. Pells and other shad fishermen of this vicinity will go down to the Narrows to begin the season's operations and later will return to their fishing grounds at Kingston Point.

Seamy Side.

A description of Joseph Saltzman, the alleged murder of Juliana Multer at Irvington, N. J., has been sent to officers in this City.

[From the Poughkeepsie News-Press.]

Michael Roach, of Staatsburgh, who has been an inmate of the Hudson River State Hospital since last fall, having been adjudged a lunatic six months ago, when he shot his daughter in attempting to shoot his wife, and afterward shot himself, was discharged, on Friday, and returned to the County Jail to await his trial, which will probably take place in June.

"Three for Five Cents."

What are said to be cigars, are sold in this City three for five cents. A dude who appeared to be familiar with that line of goods went into a place here, yesterday, and laid down five cents and picked up four of them. Happening to see the sign—"Three for five cents"—he laid one down and explained that in Pittsburgh, Pa., where they are made, and in many other places they are sold four for five cents. The "cigars" are said to be about as good as the average "twofers."

Sporting Matter.

Kingston City base-ball players are talking of forming a team here. They do not favor the idea of going outside of this City for material. It has been suggested that there is a sufficient number of players here who, with a little practice, would make a creditable showing.

Shipment of Beer Barrels.

A large number of beer barrels, showing the industry in beer drinking here during the past winter, were loaded on a barge in the Rondout Creek yesterday. The mild winter, it is said, made the consumption of beer large and decreased the sale of whiskey.

Handsome Sites.

There are many handsome sites for residences on the high ground in the lower portion of this City. If residences were placed upon them it would add greatly to the appearance of the City as viewed from the Hudson River.

Farmers' Club.

A meeting of the Dutchess and Ulster Farmers' Club was held in Poughkeepsie today. At the morning session "Early Forage Crops" was the subject of discussion. This afternoon the subject was "The Use of Fertilizers."

A Matter of Importance.

Notwithstanding all the advantages of sewerage, etc., it is said the most important work for the benefit of the health of the people of a city is properly removing garbage and looking after outbuildings.

Shooting Muskrats.

Many muskrats are being shot on the "flats" at Sleightburgh by men who are hauling from that place canal boats which have been "wintering" there.

Cause for a Building Boom.

It is said most of the 40 men employed in the new shoe factory at Saugerties, desire to rent houses there but cannot do so on account of the scarcity of dwellings.

Paper Milk Cans.

Paper milk cans, weighing only 18 pounds, are being manufactured. It is claimed they will keep milk sweet 12 or 15 hours longer than tin cans.

EDUCATIONAL MATTERS.

MEETING OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES IN KINGSTON LAST NIGHT.

Report of the Finance Committee—Training Class—Number of Pupils Registered And Work that Has Been Accomplished Here.

A meeting of the Kingston Board of Education was held last night. The Trustees present were Gillespie, Shufeldt, Brigham, Connelly and TenBroeck. President Betts presided.

The Finance Committee reported bills audited to the amount of $4,750.

The report of the Collector was read. It stated that $300 had been collected and paid to the Treasurer.

The Treasurer's report showed the following: Account overdrawn as per last report, $5,324.40. Account overdrawn March 25, 1889, $7,332.55. Disbursements since February 25, 1889, $2,525.15. Receipts, $517.

The report of the Committee was adopted.

The Committee on Repairs and Supplies reported that the repairs ordered for No. 15 school were completed.

Reports of Principals of the Academy and the various schools were read.

Principal Cheney, of Kingston Academy, reported: Number pupils registered 209. This he considered an unusually large register for the spring term. New pupils have entered, while some who were in attendance have left. A number of the members of the training class have obtained schools for the summer and are at work. The results of Regents' examinations as an indication of what the teachers have done in the way of instruction, and what the pupils have done in the way of study were satisfactory. In the preliminary subjects, 30 passed in arithmetic; 30 in geography; 27 in grammar; 27 in spelling. * * * "In all we have secured about 350 papers, which, if accepted, will entitle us to a large number of Regents' Academic certificates and State diplomas."

Principal Mower, of School No. 5, reported: Number registered, 316. Average daily attendance, 268. Term examinations have been held in all grades.

Principal Darrow, of School No. 8, reported: Number of pupils in attendance 346. The Principal said: "I have tried various ways to secure attendance, knowing that it was very essential that the pupil should be in school all of the time to get his work done. I got a flag and gave it to the class that made the highest per cent. during the week. It has increased the attendance from two to three per cent." Mr. Darrow further said that good work had been done in the examinations.

Principal Bennett, of School No. 11, reported: Attendance of pupils 294. Examinations have shown unusually good work on the part of teachers, especially in primary department.

Principal Murphy, of School No. 15, reported number of pupils enrolled 93. This school was progressing, everything being in excellent order.

The Principals of the various schools reported considerable illness.

The Committees on Organization and Repairs and Supplies were directed to make estimates of the expenses of the schools for the coming year.

The Board adjourned to the evening of April 24.

OTHER EDUCATIONAL MATTERS.

The spring term of the Delaware Academy at Delhi opened yesterday.

The pupils of Ulster Academy, Rondout, are taking interest in an "exhibition" to be given on Friday before the short Easter vacation.

NOTES ABOUT CURRENT LITERATURE.

The April Number of "Harper's Magazine"—"Scribner's"—Papers, Etc.

Charles Francis Adams's paper on "The Prevention of Railway Strikes," published in the April Scribner's, was written nearly three years ago, but held back by the author for fear that, in existing conditions, it might result in more harm than good. A practical scheme for giving employes a part in the management of the road is suggested.

The frontispiece of Harper's Magazine for April is the Gibbs-Channing portrait of Washington by Gilbert Stuart. Professor John Bach follows with a paper on "Washington's Inauguration," and Bjoinstjeine Bjornson contributes his third and last paper on "Norway and Its People." Benjamin Constant has prepared 12 drawings of scenes in Tangier and Morocco, and has put into his descriptive article some of what he calls the "light, whiteness, brilliancy" of the East.

West Athens.

A hotel will be built on the Burns property near the West Shore depot, this spring.

F. D. Lampman will leave Florence, Kansas, on Saturday next, for his home in this place.

The Rev. J. Demming, Pastor of the M. E. Church, will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday.

A paper is in the hands of Station Agent Odell for the purpose of establishing a Post-Office at West Athens.

A paper is in circulation for the purpose of buying the Athens and Schoharie turnpike, which will be sold on Saturday, in Catskill. If the town makes the purchase the thoroughfare will be thrown open as a district road.

Milton News.

The Unity Public Hall Association is in a fair way to soon commence the building of a large and substantial public hall. Three thousand dollars has been subscribed. The building to be erected will be two stories high and about 40 by 90 feet on the ground. The lower floor will be used for stores, etc. A portion of the ground floor will be used for a club kitchen and reception room. The upper floor will be fitted for amusement purposes. A meeting of the Association was held on Wednesday night, to consider the purchase of a site.

Brodheads.

One or two city boarders have already arrived here.

Zadoc P. Boice has purchased the standing trees on a valuable wood lot of the Brodhead family.

Mrs. M. N. Hunt, a Quakeress, of Rosendale Plains, preached two excellent sermons in the Shokan Church, on Sunday. On Monday evening Mrs. Hunt exhibited her temperance panorama and lectured in the Church.

Stone Ridge.

The proposed new railroad from Ellenville through the Rondout Valley to intersect with the Wallkill Valley Road at Binnewater, it is believed, will be built. A person living near Stone Ridge, a large land holder, offers the right of way through his lands and $1,000.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

C. D. WESTBROOK & COMPANY,

In removing their quarters to the elegant rooms recently occupied by the Y. M. C. A., No. 32 Wall-street, beg leave to state that, entering upon the twenty-first year of their business, they are enabled to offer greater inducements than ever for 1889. Their fire companies comprise three out of the six largest corporations doing business in the United States, as to assets, and three out of five as to surplus to policy holders. Their records of County property enable them to insure by mail, telegraph or telephone, in companies of which they are the fully commissioned agents.

Respectfully yours, Dr. H.C. Rosencrance.

SOMETHING WORTH READING.

"A Tin Roof" is the title of a little book just issued by Messrs. Merchant & Co., 517 Arch-street, Philadelphia. The purpose of the publication is to supply to builders, architects and the general public some exact information as to the best methods of constructing a tin roof and as to the right materials to be used to secure satisfactory and permanent results. We especially recommend the book, which is intended for gratuitous distribution, to mill owners. They are very apt to trust the matter of roofing wholly to builders and they usually know really very little about the character of the tin used or the excellence or the defectiveness of the job. This pamphlet will help them to protect their interests. It is very explicit, perfectly comprehensible, and we think wholly trustworthy. It is quite profusely illustrated and the cuts indicate processes of applying tin-roofing which insure excellence.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

MRS. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE has nearly recovered her physical health. Her mind, however, is badly shattered, and her memory so entirely gone that she cannot recognize acquaintances.

COL. FRED. D. GRANT took the oath of office yesterday as Minister to Austria. He is now a full fledged Minister Plenipotentiary, and can depart for his post as soon as he is ready. He will probably leave in April.

SECRETARY NOBLE is looming up as the most probable candidate for the vacancy on the Supreme bench caused by the death of Justice Matthews. Noble is one of the leading lawyers at the St. Louis bar. His elevation, it is said, will make J. S. Clarkson Secretary of the Interior.

THE wife of Rev. Mr. McGregor, a Baptist pastor in Rochester, was burned to death at St. Stephen, N. B., yesterday. She sat near an open stove and was applying kerosene oil to her body for sciatica, when the oil took fire and exploded over her. Very few cases of "didn't know it was loaded" are ahead of this in carelessness.

ONIONS are selling for one cent a bushel in the great onion growing region around Canastota. The onion market is overstocked. One Madison county grower who shipped 600 bushels to New York last week received a check for $1.55 in full payment. The soil is so favorable to onions that they can be raised at a handsome profit for 25 cents a bushel, and the farmers are going to try it again.

THE Washington Star is the only authority given for the story that Mr. Wanamaker declared he would not make removals for offensive partisanship, and even the Star declines to name its informant. The yarn may be set down as a Mugwump joke on Wanamaker, who is not a Mugwump by a big majority. The offensive partisans are going right straight along and with constantly accelerating speed. After they are out the administration will put the public service on a reform basis.

THE colored people who are moving out of North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee in such large numbers, are concentrating in Mississippi, the home of Jeff. Davis and the theater of more political murders for the maintenance of a "White Man's Government" than any other state of the section. The whites are alarmed and admit that they are in danger of being overwhelmed by numbers. And yet it would be an instance of poetic justice if Mississippi should become a negro state.

POSTMASTER GENERAL WANAMAKER selects John Fields for Postmaster of Philadelphia, while Senator Quay prefers William R. Leeds. Fields is a merchant of Mr. Wanamaker's own high standing, a man of great business capacity, an earnest Republican, but not greatly addicted to politics. Leeds is of the best and highest type of Philadelphia politicians, alert, [illegible] influential, with first-class [illegible] and a clean record, business qualifications [illegible] Philadelphia in[illegible]. The business sentiment of Ph[illegible] will incline to Fields, but all admit that ei[illegible] do. It is believed that Mr. Wanamaker['s] choice will be respected by President Harrison.

A SECTION of Broadway, New York, in front of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, was torn to pieces at noon yesterday by a quick succession of explosions. These were so powerful that they lifted the heavy caps of the manholes ten feet into the air and hurled paving blocks in all directions. Fortunately no one was seriously hurt, though this is the most crowded section of Broadway and hundreds were passing. The cause is a mystery, though the general impression appears to be that it was caused by an accumulation of illuminating gas.

IN the first test case relating to the despotic acts of the Indiana Legislature for the control of offices, the Supreme Court decides against it. The act in question placed the control of the fire and police departments, streets, alleys, water supply, lighting, etc., in Indianapolis and Evansville in charge of commissions appointed by the Legislature. The court in rendering its decision says that such legislation, "if unchecked, would lead to legislative despotism as absolute as that of the French national assembly during the Reign of Terror."

JOHN HUMBERT died at McClellandtown, Pa., yesterday from injuries inflicted by a gang of robbers last summer. To compel him to give up a large sum of money which was supposed to be in the house, the rascals burned the palms of his hands, held his body over the fire, and inflicted other tortures. He was immovable, however, and they left without their plunder. A month ago Humbert allowed his place to be sold rather than touch his hoard. He died without revealing its hiding place, though he tried several times. His last words were: "Bob, the box is—;" then he gasped and died. His relatives are hunting for the cash.

SUPERINTENDENT DOOLITTLE of the Railway Mail Service, after a rather inglorious record of four months, has resigned by request, to make room for R. C. Jackson, the most efficient officer ever engaged in the railway mail service. Mr. Doolittle's resignation will take effect on the 31st inst., when Jackson will again take hold. Doolittle's elevation to a place for which he had less experience and fitness than the driver of a street car, was due to the favoritism of Hon Isaac Maynard, whose faithful servitor he had been. As an instance of offensive partisanship, it appears to have "taken the cake," for everybody who relied upon the mails has been offended.

SUSAN SILKIER, a Hungarian domestic in the employ of Isaac Brunner in Brooklyn, was hauled out of a closet yesterday after having been concealed three days without fire, food or light. Last Friday evening, having been left alone in the house till thoughts of burglars made her nervous, she imagined when she heard Mr. and Mrs. Brunner entering the house that they were robbers. She immediately crawled into a closet and kept silent for three days while her employers and relatives were searching the city for her. She was discovered by Mr. Brunner's little son. When led out she was found to be insane from her long fright, but the doctors believe that she will soon recover.

Death of Robert Richardson, of Ithaca, While at Savannah, Georgia.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ITHACA, March 26.—Robert Richardson, a stone-carver, died yesterday at Savannah, Ga., on his way home from St. Augustine, Fla. He was 45 years old and reputed to be the most artistic stone sculpter in this country. His handiwork was sought for the embellishment of many of the finer structures throughout the State. He was an enthusiast in his art and scoured Kensington and other noted English schools in frequent visits for manels to be utilized in the instruction of his amateur classes in clay modelling and stone carving. Mr. Richardson was prominent in Masonic circles.

NEW-YORK STATE LEGISLATURE

To Meet in Joint Session To-Morrow to Hear Capitol Commission Report.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

ALBANY, March 26.—In the Assembly to-day Mullaney's bill authorizing the New-York Common Council to appropriate $15,000 for fireworks at the Washington Centennial celebration was passed. The House spent over an hour in discussing the drafted men's bill. The bill was ordered to a third reading.

The Senate resolution for a joint meeting, Wednesday evening, March 27, for the purpose of inspecting plans for the completion of the Capitol, was adopted.

Husted moved that a special session of the House be held, to-morrow afternoon, between 5 and 6 o'clock, to consider the ballot reform and Excise Commission bills. It was carried.

IN THE STATE SENATE.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, March 26.—Sloan offered a concurrent resolution in the Senate to-day for a joint session of the two Houses to-morrow evening to hear the report of the Capitol Commission to which was entrusted the work of ascertaining the cost of completing the Capitol building. Mr. Sloan announced that stereopticon views would be given. Kellogg objected that there was no authority for a joint session for this purpose. It had been appointed as a rider to the appropriation bill and it had been formed as a war measure. He should henceforth insist that the Capitol Commissioner should be allowed to exercise the functions of his office or that the law creating the office should be repealed

Erwin thought the resolution was all right. The Legislature had met in joint session for memorial exercises, and might so do to consider the condition of the Capitol building, which was a magnificent structure, in some respects, and a "gigantic steal" in others.

Coggeshall endorsed these views. He considered that the parallel with memorial exercises was happy. It was a mau-oleum, where the people had deposited $18,000,000 of their hard-earned savings. He characterized the Capitol as "a stupenduous fraud."

Arnold suggested that the members of the Senate and Assembly simply be requested to attend and receive the report, and that the wording of the resolution be so changed.

Langbein declared the resolution was simply a catch-penny scheme intended to wheedle more money out of the people for continuing the Capitol construction.

The resolution was amended to meet the objections made and passed.

Bills passed: Linson's, amending the Civil Code, relative to the competency of witnesses. Curtis', providing that when the Grand Army of the Republic is dissolved its property shall revert to the State. Vedder's, permitting railroads to run baggage and express-cars behind passenger cars. Husted's, for the distribution of money collected under the Ives pool law to agricultural societies. McNaughton's, for the incorporation of assessment or co-operative insurance companies to insure the lives of horses, mules, etc.

The time for the report of the Fasset Special Investigating Committee was further extended to April 22.

Bills passed: Walker's, placing the names of new banks under the control of the Superintendent of the Bank Department. The Insurance Commissioners' bill allowing boiler insurance companies to also insure boiler connections. McCarren's, authorizing a $25,000 appropriation by Brooklyn for the Washington Centennial. Adjourned.

One Sunk and 30 of Its Crew and Passengers Drowned.

A BONDED WAREHOUSE BURNED.

Believed to Have Been Fired by Incendiaries; Loss $1,500,000.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, March 27.—The Grand Central warehouse, at Rush and North Water-streets, was burned this morning and building and contents are a total loss, the aggregate of which is placed at $1,500,000. Twice before within a comparatively short time the building has been on fire. Two weeks ago there was a slight blaze in the structure which, though easily extinguished, was very suspicious in its circumstances. Alderman Manierre, owner of the building, said this morning he had no doubt that the three fires were all of incendiary origin. It was a Government bonded ware-house and 90 per cent. of its contents were teas and coffees in bond for the import duty. Their ownership was widely distributed. Perhaps the heaviest losers are Fitch, Howland & Company, of this City, who had $250,000 worth of teas in the building. Other Chicago firms who had property in the ware-house, are: C. B. Lathrop & Company, Hillyer & Company, Falker & Stern, Wineman, Conant & Company, W. F. Peel & Company, Robert Jeffrey & Company and the Union National Bank. Outside firms which lose by the fire are: Hydes, Southworth & E. S. Conont & Company, both of Boston; Siegfield & Browndenstein, San Francisco; Eppers, Smith, Windman & Company, Carter, Hawley & Company, George W. Lane & Company and W. P. Roome & Company, all of New-York City.

PANIC AT WILLIAMSBURGH.

NEW-YORK, March 26.—A fire caused by an explosion occurred about 1 o'clock to-day, in a factory, corner of Kent-avenue and South-second-street, Williamsburgh. The fire was in a four-story building occupied as a shoe factory. A number of girls were injured in the panic that ensued when the alarm was given. At 2 P. M. the fire was still in progress. Late reports by telephone say at least 20 persons were injured, and that it is believed several have been killed. Many girls flung themselves head-long into the street. A dozen unconscious girls were carried from the burning building on stretchers by the police, most of them suffering from shock more than anything else. The factory building was destroyed. It was owned by ex-Alderman W. W. Armfield. The loss will reach $50,000.

ANOTHER FIRE.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

TROY, N. Y., March 25.—At 4 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in John O'Connor's store, Middle Granville. The Gilder block, owned by Miss Williams, of Salem, [o]ccupied by J. S. Hughes & Son, was burned. [illegible] loss to the buildings and contents is estimate[d] at from $8,000 to $10,000. Partly insured.

SOLDIER WHO IS AN EMBEZZLER.

It is Believed He Has Reached Canada with From $3,000 to $4,000.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHEYENE, Wyo., March 26.—Fifteen months ago James Grant arrived at Fort Laramie as a recruit. He was prepossessing, intelligent and well educated, and was soon promoted to a Corporalship. Gaining the confidence of Joseph Roseburg, a Jewish private soldier who had saved several thousand dollars by long service, he induced him to form a partnership to loan money to the soldiers from pay day to pay day at 10 per cent. per month. The next step was to borrow money, paying 5 per cent. per month interest. A banking business of large dimensions was done, many officers loaning money or having pay warrants discounted. Saturday last, when the soldiers were paid off, Grant is said to have collected $2,000 of the loans of the previous month. With this and $3,000 or $4,000 more, all assets of the firm, he left the place on a horse belonging to one of the officers. It is feared he will reach Canada with the money.

DIED.

HASBROUCK—At Port Ewen, N. Y., on March 25, 1889, Josiah Hasbrouck, M. D., of heart failure, aged 59 years.

Funeral on Wednesday, at 11 A. M., from the Reformed Dutch Church, at Port Ewen. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

ENORMOUS FORTUNES.

Notwithstanding the enormous fortunes accumulated through the use of printer's ink, large sums of money are annually wasted in ineffectual and unremunerative advertising.

The merits of a really valuable commodity properly portrayed in the columns of an influential and widely read newspaper, like The Freeman, will speedily become generally known and appreciated, while the returns reaped by the advertiser will be like those of the wise husbandman who "planted his seed in good ground, wherein it bore fruit and brought forth, some an hundred fold, some sixty, some thirty."

The wording of an advertisement is an all-important matter.

Clearness, attractiveness, brevity and sincerity must characterize any announcement intended to catch the public eye and appeal to public confidence. An advertisement inserted in a London journal a few days ago brought instant and multitudinous replies, accompanied by an almost unlimited supply of bank notes, simply because it touched the chord of nature which makes all mankind akin. Its simple pathos and self-evident truthfulness appealed to every heart.

The advertiser sought for a lost relative, and, giving his name, said: "I am ill and friendless. My last half crown is expended in paying for this advertisement. Write me at"—[giving the address]. As already stated, nearly every one who read the announcement hastened to relieve the necessities of the sufferer—a real sufferer in this case, though many swindles are perpetrated in the divine name of charity.

Thus it is with a really meritorious commodity or preparation; if its virtues be properly and truthfully set forth in the public press, its success is prompt and certain.

On the other hand, the public is quick and unerring to detect deception and charlatanry; and, accordingly, no amount of "puffery" will force a vile nostrum into public esteem and patronage. Untold sums have been sunk in vain efforts to advertise into popularity so-called medical preparations which did not possess the virtues or properties claimed for them.

Valuable medicines, however, like Warner's Safe Cure and Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla, carry their own best commendation in their power to cure the particular diseases for which they are a specific.

They require no labored panegyric to convince the people of their power and efficacy, for they have been tried and found perfect.

Nature's remedies, by their own intrinsic merits have conferred a lasting boon upon mankind, and they have secured an enviable reputation and unlimited sale throughout the civilized world.

FAIR PLAY FOR THE VETERANS.

The transfer of the Pension Bureau to the charge of Corporal Tanner will break up one very vicious practice adopted by the late administration. The employment of ex-Confederate spies to traverse the North and find out everything possible to the detriment of any and every applicant for a pension will no longer be permitted. It seems strange that an old Union soldier like Gen. Black would have sanctioned such a proceeding, but he actually inaugurated it. As soon as Mr. Cleveland's administration was in motion this brigade of old rebel soldiers was started for the North. And not only this, but Democratic Postmasters were instructed to report the same sort of stuff to the Pension Office. By means of this system many deserving veterans were prevented from obtaining the pensions to which they were entitled, and many who were already receiving pensions were cut from the list. Any sort of excuse was available, both at the Pension Bureau and with Mr. Cleveland. Men and women were denied pensions for service actually rendered because this gang of spies succeeded in tracing up some gossip that reflected upon their private characters. Others were denied with sneers because the Commissioner or the President affected to believe that the disease complained of was likely to have been contracted previous to or after service. But the one infamous fact of the whole business was that this army of Confederate spies was allowed to constitute the final court by which the claims of Union soldiers were thrown out at the Pension Office. This caused thousands of claims to be presented to and passed by Congress, and thus brought to Mr. Cleveland the opportunity to show his contempt for the Union soldier which he so industriously improved.

There is to be no more of this bad work. The claim of the soldier or the soldier's widow is going to be treated on its merits. The man who fought for his country will get his reward without going to Congress for it. Hence there will be fewer special pension bills for Congress to pass and President Harrison to sign. Commissioner Tanner is in full sympathy with the soldiers, and will not tolerate lying and slanderous reports concerning them, or allow such to weaken their claim. Every soldier will get his just due, and rejections will be made only in cases of actual fraud.

The malicious methods of "physical wreck" Black and the infamous vetoes of President Cleveland caused the veterans of the Union cause to band together last fall for the overthrow of the Democratic administration. The President, himself a soldier, has placed at the head of the Pension Bureau a veteran who has not gone over to the enemy. If he errs at all it will be on the side of the soldier, for his heart is with the men who wore the blue.

BLACKBALLED A JEW.

The public will be scarcely less surprised to learn that there are Christians in that swell organization of New York Democrats known as the Manhattan Club, than that they have blackballed a Jew. The victim of this remarkable stroke of Democratic disfavor is none other than Hon. Oscar Straus, United States Minister to Turkey, and a member of the large chinaware importing firm of L. Straus & Sons, in Warren street, New York. This Mr. Straus is the same gentleman concerning whom the Democratic newspapers fictitiously reported a quarrel between Secretary Blaine and Postmaster General Wanamaker a few days ago, because the latter wished him to be retained in his present position during the Harrison administration. Though there has never been any quarrel or disagreement, the report had for its foundation the fact that Mr. Wanamaker esteems Mr. Straus very highly as an honorable merchant and has large dealings with his firm.

Two brothers of Mr. Straus had been received as members of the Manhattan club before the fatal blackballs were cast for the most distinguished member of the firm. Many other Jews of good standing had also been admitted into the organization, and the only plausible excuse offered for the rejection of the representative of the United States to the Sublime Porte is that "the Jews were getting too thick," and that unless their admission was stopped they would soon be in a majority. Their ways also are described as offensive to the silk stocking Democrats who rule the club. They talked too loud at the meetings, had too much too say, and sometimes actually neglected to use the spittoons. It was also said concerning them by one of the leading members that there was "an indefinable something which at first irritated and then exasperated the older members of the club." This exasperation finally culminated in the rejection of one of the most distinguished New Yorkers who belong to the race of Disraeli and the Rothschilds, of Montefiore and August Belmont.

Such action is perhaps a natural conclusion to the "campaign of education" through which the Democratic party has just passed. If that campaign thinned the party down into a hopeless minority, it also imbued it with a feeling of exclusiveness. The party that finds nothing more to do in politics is quite apt to organize itself into clubs, all infected with an ambition for social distinction and precedence. The Manhattan has set itself up as the nucleus of the creme de la creme of American Democracy. Of course it has no room for a Jewish merchant with the dust of imported crockery upon his garments. All such will have to go. The audacity that could strike Oscar Straus will not wince over smaller fry.

A VITAL LABOR QUESTION.

In a meeting of striking weavers at Fall River last week, one of the number asked: "If Bob Howard was unable to collect money enough all over the country to carry on the strike of a thousand spinners, how do the nine thousand weavers expect to obtain enough to carry on the struggle indefinitely?" It was a practical question, and one which every sensible man is likely under similar circumstances to revolve in his mind, especially if he has a family depending for subsistence upon his daily labor. The questioner was not "kicking." He had joined the movement and was ready to cast in his lot with the others. But the question was one of life or death to him, and before he put on the crown of martyrdom he perhaps hoped that others would consider it and possibly shrink from precipitate action.

He was disappointed. Jeers and denunciations assailed him from all parts of the hall, and when he started for home he was followed by a mob which grossly insulted him. This incident proved that the movement was directed by rage and not by reason. In their blind anger the weavers were only bent on smashing something. It mattered very little in the condition of temper that prevailed whether they won or lost; if they could vex and injure their employers, they were willing to do it at any cost. It is this temper, added to a natural improvidence and utter inability to look ahead, that is the bane of labor. It springs mainly from envy of the better conditions that follow industry, business sagacity and thrift. And when it controls and dictates the movements of great labor organizations, it turns those organizations into reckless, irresponsible, and sometimes law-breaking mobs.

But the weaver of Fall River who was assailed and insulted because of his question was the one wise and courageous man in that meeting. There might have been others equally wise, but they had not the courage to speak. There might even have been a majority who thought as he did, but if so they felt bound by their obligations and pledges to go with the strikers, and were given no opportunity to test their strength. The country is full of the wrecks of past strikes, the misery resulting from which does not disappear in a day or a year. If there was less ignorance in the imported labor element, less thoughtlessness and indifference to the comfort of families at home, less yearning for a period of idleness at whatever cost, the wise striker of Fall River would get a respectful hearing instead of an outrageous and dangerous attack from a mob.

A KANSAS HEROINE.

She Waxes Angry at Bostonese Rot—Honored at Home.

[From the Chicago Herald.]

A heroine has risen on the western horizon, and her name is Mabel Josephine Clement. She hails from Wichita, Kan., and she has thrown down the gauntlet, and stands ready to thrust through and through with her piercing black eye any wretch who may dare to assail the fair name of her native state.

Not long ago Miss Clement was a pupil at the Laselle Seminary, situated near Boston, the hub of the universe. One would naturally suppose that a maiden who had been raised where the distant howling of wolves mingled with the mother's lullaby, and where the sportive buffalo browzes in the front dooryard, would listen with due humility to aught that might fall from a Boston professor's lips. So, doubtless, thought Professor Bragdon of the seminary. He knows better now. He is a philanthropic and pious man, who believes in relieving the needy, and in converting the heathen. So, one morning this good man cast his eye over the various heathen countries of the globe, and fixed upon Kansas as the most benighted and barbarous. He waxed eloquent in chapel, before his assembled pupils. He had evidently been reading the newspapers, and he spoke of starvation, mortgages, misery, poor crops, big tariff majorities, blizzards; he passed on to wild Western wickedness, and spoke of raising contributions to support clergymen in the most benighted districts. Right in the midst of his peroration, however, the Professor stumbled. He felt fascinated by a strange influence. Looking down he beheld two blazing dark eyes, scintillating with indignation and fairly transfixing him; he heard a fearless feminine voice exclaim: "Rot, rot, rank Bostonese rot!" Moreover, the young lady would make no apology. She wrote home to her father for money, paid her debts, packed her trunks, shook off the dust from her feet, and hied her to the state she loves. Since her arrival home the Kansas press has applauded her to the echo, and she has been the heroine of more than one drawing-room. Kansas need have no fears if her girls are ready to fight for her. Let the slippered grannies of the effete East beware.

THE HUNGRY CROWD.

Laughed at by Well Fed Democrats Who Expect to Go.

[Washington Gossip in New York Tribune.]

One day this week a wag in the Treasury Department was talking with several of his Democratic friends, when a Republican Congressman passed along the corridor, having in tow three very tall, lean-looking men from his district.

"See those fellows, there," said the wag, pointing to the party, "they want places in the departments. You looked just as lank and hungry four years ago when you struck town, and I reckon I did too; and as we have been quite comfortable for four years, and all of us have fattened up considerably, I cannot help thinking of a little episode that happened one Sunday morning in the penitentiary of my state. The comparison is rather rank, boys, but all the same I must tell you the yarn. It was a mild day in February, and sitting over against the stone wall were twenty-five or thirty negro convicts. They were chatting and smoking, and enjoying the warm sunlight. Fat and sleek, with warm prison clothes on, they hadn't a care in the world. Pretty soon the big iron gate swung open, and in came a couple of Deputy Sheriffs, bringing to prison a half dozen of the thinnest looking negroes you ever laid eyes on. They had on high-water jeans trousers and thin clothing generally. They had lain in county jails all winter, and looked utterly miserable. As they passed through the yard there was complete silence among the colored convicts ranged against the wall. One big, burly fellow, who had eyed the procession closely, said to his fellow-prisoners:

"'Mus' be hard times on de outside.'

"If many more lean fellows come nosing around this department, I will come to the conclusion, too, that there have been hard times on the outside."

Married Under Difficulties.

[From the Philadelphia Record.]

At a Memphis museum William Quinn, the lecturer of the place, stood up to marry Venie Caralie, an Albino exhibit. A brother of the bride rushed forward and forbade the banns. "Stand back," said the Justice, "and do not come between those whom the law would join." Nothing daunted, the brother grabbed the bridegroom by the collar and the groom grasped him by the hair. They waltzed around the hall in a hostile embrace, the bride clinging to her chosen, and the Justice following in a trot, repeating the formula required by law. By the time the circuit of the room was completed the Justice announced that the twain were man and wife

A GREAT BATTLE

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

WHY WILL YOU cough when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief. Price 10 cts., 50 cts. and $1. Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

IT IS FOOLISH

To send for the doctor every time you don't feel just right. My doctor's bill for years was over a hundred dollars a year, which made a pretty big hole in my wages. For the past two years I only spent ten dollars, with which I bought a dozen bottles of Sulphur Bitters, and health has been in my family since using them.—Robert Johnson, Machinist.

When Macbeth ironically asked: "Canst thou minister to a mind diseased?" he little knew that mankind would one day be blessed with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In purifying the blood, this powerful alterative gives tone and strength to every function and faculty of the system.

THE VERDICT UNANIMOUS.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of rheumatism of ten years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my twenty years' experience is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. HOW TO SAVE LIFE.

What is a cough? It is an irritation of the throat and lungs. What causes it? Congestion. Stop the congestion, the irritation ceases and the cough is cured. But how to stop the congestion! Ah, there is just where physicians have always been puzzled. But it must be checked, or pneumonia, quick consumption or some terrible pulmonary disease will follow. Some doctors give cod liver oil others cough syrups, but the most advanced prescribe stimulants. Nature must be assisted. Pure whiskey will do it. See what physicians say:

Prof. Austin Flint, of Bellevue (New York) College, says: "The judicious use of alcoholic stimulants is one of the striking characteristics of progress in the practice of medicine during the last half century."

Professor Henry A. Mott, of New-York, says: "The purity of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey (as simple analytical test will readily convince a physician or an expert) should certainly recommend it to the highest public favor."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is a certain cure and preventive of congestion and should be kept in every family. It is sold by all druggists and dealers. Be sure and secure the genuine.

The Old Doctors

Drew blood, modern doctors cleanse it, hence the increased demand for Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due not to over-abundance, but impurity of the blood, and it is equally well attested that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies, for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal. But it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine was necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being above all others, we used it with marvelous results. The sore healed and health and strength rapidly returned."—J. J. Armstrong, Weimar, Texas.

"I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be an admirable remedy for the cure of blood diseases. I prescribe it, and it does the work every time."—E. L. Pater, M. D., Manhattan, Kansas.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommended it when asked to name the best blood-purifier."—W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

★ BRIGHT'S DISEASE. ★

A Ten-Year-Old Child Saved After the Failure of Four Physicians.

My little girl, ten years of age, was taken sick in March, 1888, with scarlet fever. When recovering she took a severe cold, which developed Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Her ankles, feet and eyes were terribly swollen, she had a burning fever, and all the symptoms of an aggravated case of Bright's Disease. Four of our best physicians attended her, but without success, and

Her Life was Despaired of.

But a mother's love and prayers surmount all difficulties, and I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y. This was a last resort, and I hoped, although my little daughter's case was a very severe one, that the Favorite Remedy would do for her what it had done for others whose condition had not been, seemingly, as hopeless. How happy I am that I determined upon this course—for an improvement was at once perceptible. The fever left her—her appetite improved—she gained six pounds in a short time, and one by one the well known and dreaded symptoms of the disease left her. Words fail to express my gratitude and I cannot too earnestly recommend the Favorite Remedy. It was and is due entirely to the Favorite Remedy, which was the only medicine taken after her case was abandoned by the physicians.

Mrs. Laura A. Kempton, West Rutland, Vermont.

The diseases that follow Scarlet Fever, Measles, Diphtheria and various other complaints often leave behind them sequelias of the most obstinate and dangerous character. To expel all traces of such disorders, tone up the various organs, and fill the veins with pure and nutritious blood, use

CROWN PRINCE'S DEATH.

ALLEGED TRUE STATEMENT OF EVENTS THAT LED TO THE TRAGEDY.

Fell in Love With a Young Girl—Four Calves That Will Cost Twenty Thousand Dollars—Indians Who Defy the Military—Base Ball, Etc.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

DETROIT, March 26.—Maurice Hardtmuth, of Vienna, a member of the Vienna and London firm of F. Hardtmuth & Company, who is now traveling in this country, was interviewed by the Free Press last night. In answer to a question as to feeling in Austria over the tragic death of the Crown Prince, he said: "It is regarded as a most unhappy and deplorable event. A friend of mine gave me the true facts of the case. He was with the Crown Prince on his hunting expedition, and was to a large extent his confidant. The Crown Prince was madly in love with a beautiful and pure young girl, and desired to obtain a divorce from his wife for the purpose of marrying her. This the Emperor would not listen to, and much trouble resulted between him and the heir to the throne. Then the latter wrote directly to the Pope, appealing for his intervention, but that dignitary returned the letter to the Emperor. The next scheme on the part of the Crown Prince was a marriage of the left hand only, of course an unholy bond of union. This was also defeated by the Emperor, after which the young people determined to die together. The reason that the Crown Prince was buried in gloves was because two of his fingers were broken and his hand badly bruised by a friend in endeavoring to wrest the fatal revolver from his grasp.

Latest Phase of the Interminable Jones County Calf Case in Iowa.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WATERLOO, Ia., March 26.—Judge Lenehan's decision in the latest phase of the interminable Jones County calf case was filed, yesterday. He overruled the motion of the defense for a verdict against the plaintiff on the special findings of the jury and rendered judgment against the defendants for $1,000 and costs, which will amount to $3,500. The only one of seven defendants who was exempted from the judgment was Harmon Kellar, who died last week. The defense will take the case to the Supreme Court on the claim that the special findings of the jury were to the effect that the defendants were acting under advice of counsel when they had the plaintiff indicted in 1874 for larceny. The four calves that were the cause of this trouble promise to cost over $20,000 when the case is finally ended.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this County. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption and was so much relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. COMMON AIR.

The breath of life is conveyed to every part of the human lungs by means of a system of fine vessels called the bronchial tubes. When these are clogged up by an accumulation of mucous, so that breathing is very difficult, especially after any exertion, a person has the leading symptoms of Asthma or Phthisic. Besides this the tubes are often reduced to much less than their natural diameter by spasmodic contraction; often nearly suffocating the sufferer. Whether the case is of long standing or not. Dr. David Kennedy's Cherry Balsam is the most efficacious known remedy. It at once loosens the mucous matter, and causes it to be ejected by a free and easy expectoration. The Balsam in such cases should be taken in larger doses than for a common Cough, and no harm is done if some vomiting results. Take particular notice that if the disease is complicated with a dyspeptic state of the stomach Kennedy's Favorite Remedy must be used to correct the digestion. The case must be very severe that will not rapidly improve under this treatment.

PRESENTED WITH A GAVEL.

THE VISIT OF MIDDLETOWN FIREMEN TO THIS CITY.

They Extend to Wiltwyck Hose Company a Handsome Gift—What Was Said and Done in the Kingston Organization's Parlors.

Last night a committee, consisting of Messrs. F. A. R. Pronk, T. K. DeWitt, George H. Decker, Dr. Douglass, C. C. Lutes, Edward W. VanDuzer and James E. Gibbs, members of Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company, of Middletown, came to Kingston and presented to Wiltwyck Hose Company a gift as a recognition of the hospitality shown the Excelsiors during their visit to Kingston at the firemen's parade and inspection last October. They were met at the station by A. J. Keefe, Walter H. Van Gaasbeek, Charles A. Snyder, C. H. Safford, Chester Styles and Paul Cable, of Wiltwyck Hose, and escorted in carriages to the Eagle Hotel, where they were entertained. Later in the evening members of Wiltwyck Hose Company assembled in their pleasant parlors on Fair-street, when the formal presentation took place. Everett Fowler occupied the Chair.

Mr. Pronk, of the Excelsiors, stated the object of their visit. He said: "I can assure you that we are glad to be with you here on this occasion, and we wish you success and prosperity. May the friendship between the two companies be strengthened, broadened and deepened, until they shall be as one united and happy family." He was followed by George H. Decker, who spoke at length of the pleasure of the visit to Kingston last October, and then taking the box containing the gift he presented it in the following words:

"This Committee is commissioned by the members of the company that we represent, to express to you in the form of this testimonial some appreciation of the friendship and pleasures which, through you, we have been permitted to enjoy. This expression we bring in the form of a gavel. We have selected this because it is the emblem of order. And no organization such as yours has proved itself to be can be symbolized by other than the emblem of order. I present it to you, sir, for this Company, with the sentiment, that the friendship which has sprung up and now exists between us, may be as pure as the ivory from which it is carved, and as chaste as its setting."

Mr. Fowler in accepting the gift spoke of the pleasure with which the gavel would be shown the friends of Wiltwyck Hose Company, and they would be told that it was the gift of "Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company, composed of as fine a body of men as ever visited this ancient City." Mr. Fowler referred to some of the amusing incidents of the long march which he denoted as "showing the visitors the sights of the City." He expressed in the name of the Company, the Wiltwycks' appreciation of the gift and cordially extended the hospitalities of the rooms to Excelsior Hook and Ladder whenever they came to Kingston. In closing he said: "We are glad to see you and only wish you had brought all the members of your company with you. You cannot come too often."

Remarks were made by Foreman A. J. Keefe, F. A. Westbrook, W. H. Becker and Charles H. Safford, of Wiltwycks, and C. C. Lutes, of the Excelsiors.

Among those who welcomed the Committee during the evening was Mayor Newkirk.

The gavel is admired. It is a beautiful gift, being of solid ivory, with a large diamond set in a star on one side of the maul, while on a solid gold plate on the handle is the following inscription:

Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 11, 1888,
Wiltwyck Hose Co., No. 1.
From
Excelsior Hook & Ladder Co., No. 1,
Middletown, N. Y.,
March 25, 1889.

The display of Easter cards in this City this season is more attractive than in any preceding year.

An impromptu horse mart was established "Up-the-Dock," Rondout, yesterday. There were many transactions.

The conservatories of Kingston City florists are now filled with blooming flowers and are interesting places to visit.

The most independent persons in Rondout next week will be the carmen. Their services will be in demand by movers.

The members of the Fourteenth Separate Company, of this City, will participate in a full dress drill in the Armory here, on Thursday night.

People compelled to walk or ride during the early hours this morning suffered as much from the cold as on any day during the past winter.

PREPARING SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS

For Improving and Grading Chester-Street—The Amount to be Paid.

Assessors' Clerk Winchell is preparing the special assessments for improvements and grading of Chester-street, this City. One assessment is for the eastern portion of that thoroughfare, extending from Union-avenue to Bruyn-street, 25 per cent. of which was paid by the City. The total amount to be paid by the property-owners in that section is $230.25. The other assessment is for top-dressing, etc., on that portion of Chester-street lying between Union-avenue and Jarvis-street. The total amount to be levied there is $1,312.88. In this case the City also paid 25 per cent. of the total cost.

POSTMASTERS APPOINTED TO-DAY.

Names of Men in Near-By Places Who Will Handle Mail Bags.

Among the fourth-class Postmasters appointed by the Postmaster General, to-day, were Edmond Rockafeller, Germantown; Jacob Cook, Kinderhook; H. Vandewater, New-Hackensack; R. H. Neefus, Claverack; C. H. Johnson, East-Chatham; David Strain, Niverville; C. G. VanAlstyne, North-Chatham; H. Emilner, Stuyvesant Falls; J. H. Grant, Stamford.

Ordinance Being Enforced.

It begins to look as though sidewalks in portions of this City are hereafter to be utilized to walk upon as well as to show goods and that people will not have to dodge articles of various kinds hung not high enough to clear their heads. Even the peanut stand that stood on the sidewalk on the corner of Union-avenue and The Strand so long has been removed.

The Mortuary Record.

Robert W. Courtney, of Unadilla, died one day recently, aged 75. Mr. Courtney represented Delaware County in the Assembly in 1863.

Edwin Thorn, the well-known horseman, died at the home of his sister, on Fifth-avenue, New-York City, on Monday. He was 67 years of age.

Losses Adjusted.

The losses of F. Leverentz and the Roach Brothers by the fire in Rondout, on March 20, have been satisfactorily adjusted by George C. Preston's agency.

Industrial.

The various boatyards along the Rondout Creek have been turning out much work lately.

Promised for Wednesday:

Fair, slightly warmer, variable winds.

IN AND OUT OF PORT OF RONDOUT.

A Lively Locality—Arrival and Departure of Tows—Change of Name.

The propeller J. H. Cordts will take a tow of boats to the Metropolis to-night.

The opening of navigation has disposed of nearly all the formerly idle men in Rondout.

To-day the steamboat George A. Hoyt went to Albany with a tow from the Port of Rondout.

The whistle of the steamboat James W. Baldwin was blown at the mouth of the Rondout Creek, last night, at 10:10 o'clock.

The name of the propeller Sarah A. Brown has been changed to Peekskill. It will run between Peekskill and New-York City this season.

The vicinity of Derrenbacher's Corner, Rondout, has been a lively locality for the past two days. It is the starting point for those who go up the Delaware & Hudson Canal.

When the steamboat Jacob H. Tremper arrived at its dock, in Rondout, to-day, it displayed a number of flags. It was welcomed by the ringing of the steamboat James W. Baldwin's bell.

The steamboat Pittston to-day towed a large number of Delaware & Hudson Canal boats to Eddyville from the "Steamboat Dock," Rondout. It is said boats are not passing through Eddyville as rapidly as in previous years. The cause is attributed to the circumstance that the lock at that point has been repaired during the past winter, and is not working smoothly yet.

When the propeller J. H. Cordts left New-York last night, the following craft were reported in its tow: Ice barges Hamilton, to Yonkers; Washburn, to Catskill; Commonwealth, No. 3, to Esopus; ice boats Blanch, to Castleton; H. J. Newton, to Greenbush; barges Providence, to Rondout; J. S. Peck, Dr. Basten, to Yonkers; J. A. Crawford, Stonyside, to Malden; boats Charles H. Parks, James Dunn, S. R. W. Heath, to Rondout; E. Howard, to Albany; Netter, Topsie, to Troy; schooners Victor Ping, Lenora, to Eddyville; Delaware & Hudson Canal boats, to Rondout.

SOME INTERESTING SOCIETY NOTES.

Regular Conclave Rondout Commandery, No. 52, K. T.—Jubilee, Etc.

A regular conclave of Rondout Commandery, No. 52, K. T., will be held to-morrow evening.

The Third Degree will be conferred in Kingston Lodge No. 10, F. & A. M., this evening.

At the next meeting of Ulster Lodge, No. 76, Knights of Pythias, five propositions for membership will be considered.

No definite arrangements have yet been made by Kingston City and Ulster County Masons to celebrate the Jubilee commemorating the extinguishment of the Masonic debt in New-York State. The debt at one time amounted to $1,500,000. The date recommended by the Grand Master is Wednesday, April 24.

Among the adornments of the rooms of Rondout Lodge, No. 343, F. & A. M., is a life-size bust portrait of the late Lorenzo A. Sykes, who for many years was the Superintendent of the Rondout Department of the Delaware & Hudson Canal, and who took a lively interest in the old village of Rondout, and was for years a Trustee and President of the Board. The picture is the work of the younger John Vanderlyn. It is an excellent portrait, and is highly prized by the Lodge, of which Mr. Sykes was Master.

THE RECORD OF CITY AMUSEMENTS.

Daniel Sully Last Night in Kingston Opera House—Murray and Murphy.

This evening, at 26 North-Front-street, Kingston, Madam Nora's troupe of Glass Blowers will commence a week's engagement. Among the many pretty things that will be on exhibition will be the glass steam engine "Excelsior." Every visitor will receive a present.

To-night, in Kingston Opera House, "Our Irish Visitors" will be presented by Murray & Murphy, supported by a strong company. The play is a "nondescript" comedy. The comedy, it is said, has been reconstructed and enhanced in value by the introduction of new and humorous Irish situations, and as now produced is a happy conglomeration of refined mirth.

A large audience greeted Daniel Sully and his Company last night in Kingston Opera House in his play of "Daddy Nolan." The play itself is bright, clean and humorous. There is not a dull moment in it. The audience, judging from the frequent and prolonged applause, was pleased. In the last act was a pretty bit of stage setting, showing the East River, Brooklyn Bridge and New-York, as seen from Brooklyn Heights.

IN COURT OF SESSIONS, KINGSTON.

Case of The People vs. Daniel D. Bell Still in Progress.

In the Court of Sessions, which is in progress in Kingston, the case of The people vs. Daniel D. Bell, is still on trial. The prosecution has not yet finished. Among the witnesses who have testified this week are Norman Depuy, D. W. Sparling, County Clerk Wurts and Surrogate Carpenter, to matters pertaining to conversations and records. Charles Burbans, James E. Ostrander and Charles W. Deyo, bank officers, gave their opinion in regard to the handwriting of the deed in question, and signature of John J. Snyder. Eliza McCoun, Henry T. McCoun, her husband, Elizabeth T. Chatfield and other witnesses were called, to show that Helena DePuy, at the time the deed was purported to have been executed, July 13, 1857, was at Newburgh, visiting Lucas E. Schoonmaker and wife. Much of the session to-day was taken up with the examination of Daniel T. Ames, an expert.

PEOPLE WHO LEAN ON SHOW CASES.

A Rondout Merchant's Complaint—Charged With Electricity.

"Next to the shop-lifter," said a Rondout merchant, to-day, "the worst people we have to contend with are the persons who insist on 'taking a lean' on show-cases. It is useless to paste signs or notices inside the glass, for little or no attention is paid to them. Then, again, it does not look well to tell a man that you have a lounge in a back room, where he can take a nap; or that the show-case is the strongest one for its size in the United States; or that it makes no difference whether or not his hands are greasy—we have plenty of water. No, sir, he would feel insulted. All we can do is to stand by and watch the glass bend with the weight upon it, every moment expecting to see it demolished. I have given this matter much thought, and am inventing a show-case charged with electricity, by touching a small button on which the 'leaning fiend' can be removed."

RENDERED IN FAVOR OF PLAINTIFF.

A Referee Gives His Decison—The Facts in the Case.

The case of George Weber vs. John Weber, which was recently tried before Referee Walter N. Gill, in Rondout, has been decided. The Referee rendered a judgment of $527 in favor of the plaintiff. The facts in the case were as follows: George and John Weber entered into a copartnership in business. The partnership was subsequently dissolved. John Weber claimed that there was nothing due the plaintiff, whereupon the latter sued for an accounting.

Accidents.

Yesterday John Spalt, employed in the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company's sawmill "Up-the-Dock," Rondout, was struck by a piece of flying wood. One of his arms was badly injured.

A young man named Nathaniel Floyd had the index finger on his right hand badly smashed this forenoon by a "roller" falling upon it in a Rondout carpenter shop. Dr. C. W. Crispell dressed the wound.

An Offensive Appearance.

The practice of throwing ashes and garbage over back fences of door yards on Abeel-street, Rondout, gives the hillside fronting on the Rondout Creek an offensive appearance in the spring, to say the least.

PASTORS, PEOPLES AND CHURCHES.

News Garnered in the Religious Field in this City and Vicinity.

The Presbyterian Church of Liberty, Sullivan County, has called the Rev. A. S. Vaughan, now located in New-Jersey.

The Presbyterian Church at Livingston Manor has extended a call to the Rev. Walter Frey, of Downsville, Delaware County.

The bazaar which will be held in the lecture room of the St. James M. E. Church, Kingston, on Friday, will begin at 5:30 o'clock in the evening.

The Rev. John R. Lambert, Rector of Christ Church, Red Hook, will preach in St. John's Church, Kingston, to-morrow evening at the 7:30 o'clock service.

Mrs. M. N. Hunt's lecture entitled "The Road to Ruin," which is illustrated by 32 paintings 9x14 feet in size, will be given at the Rondout Presbyterian Chapel, to-morrow evening, under the auspices of the Rondout Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America will meet this year in the Fourth-Avenue Presbyterian Church, New-York, of which the Rev. Dr. Howard Crosby is Pastor. The Assembly will convene on May 16, and continue in session nearly two weeks.

The coming M. E. Conference will probably make no changes in the Pastorates of the three M. E. Churches in this City. The present ministers appear to enjoy the confidence and esteem of their congregations to a high degree. The three churches have added to their membership during the past year.

TWO RECENT FIRES IN MARLBOROUGH.

House Consumed; Loss $2,000—The Work of Bad Boys.

The residence of Cornelius Cronin, in Marlborough, was burned, yesterday forenoon. The fire was discovered by a neighbor burning in the roof near the chimney. Before an alarm could be given, the building was enveloped in flames, and was destroyed. Loss estimated at $2,000. Insurance $600, in Home Insurance Company, of New-York. The origin of the fire is laid to a defective flue.

BAD BOYS' WORK.

A number of boys started a fire in the woods adjoining Jew's Creek, in Marlborough, on Sunday afternoon. The fire spread rapidly licking the leaves and dry wood. At 8 o'clock in the evening the flames had made such progress that it was feared, if not extinguished, the village would be reached before daylight, and a disastrous conflagration ensue. Accordingly a gang of fire-fighters was organized. The men worked until about 11 o'clock, at which time the fire was put out. The blaze illuminated the surroundings, casting a bright light upon the buildings in the village.

IN ULSTER SURROGATE'S COURT.

Hearing Had in Matter of Accounting—Found in an Old Trunk.

In Ulster Surrogate's Court, Kingston, today, a hearing was had in the matter of the accounting of the Executors of the estate of Michael Doran.

Abner Hasbrouck, of the town of Gardiner, died in 1875, and Oscar Hasbrouck was appointed Administrator of his estate. Mr. Hasbrouck administered on all the property he was able to find, and in 1878 made his final accounting and was discharged by the Surrogate. A short time since, while an old trunk of Abner Hasbrouck was being overhauled, a bundle of old papers was found, and in it coupons of bonds issued by the Railroad Commissioners of the town of Gardiner to build the Wallkill Valley Railroad. They were uncancelled, and of the face value of $1,900. Counsellor-at-law Daniel B. Deyo is taking proceedings in order to have this discovery promptly administered upon.

The Shad Season.

The gathering of the shad crop in the Hudson River, it is estimated, gives employment during the season to 3,000 persons.

The first North River shad was caught in Gravesend Bay, yesterday, by W. H. Morris. It was a roe and weighed five pounds.

It is believed the shad season will open early, as there is not much snow and ice to make the water of the Hudson River cold.

On Thursday James W. Pells and other shad fishermen of this vicinity will go down to the Narrows to begin the season's operations and later will return to their fishing grounds at Kingston Point.

Seamy Side.

A description of Joseph Saltzman, the alleged murder of Juliana Multer at Irvington, N. J., has been sent to officers in this City.

[From the Poughkeepsie News-Press.]

Michael Roach, of Staatsburgh, who has been an inmate of the Hudson River State Hospital since last fall, having been adjudged a lunatic six months ago, when he shot his daughter in attempting to shoot his wife, and afterward shot himself, was discharged, on Friday, and returned to the County Jail to await his trial, which will probably take place in June.

"Three for Five Cents."

What are said to be cigars, are sold in this City three for five cents. A dude who appeared to be familiar with that line of goods went into a place here, yesterday, and laid down five cents and picked up four of them. Happening to see the sign—"Three for five cents"—he laid one down and explained that in Pittsburgh, Pa., where they are made, and in many other places they are sold four for five cents. The "cigars" are said to be about as good as the average "twofers."

Sporting Matter.

Kingston City base-ball players are talking of forming a team here. They do not favor the idea of going outside of this City for material. It has been suggested that there is a sufficient number of players here who, with a little practice, would make a creditable showing.

Shipment of Beer Barrels.

A large number of beer barrels, showing the industry in beer drinking here during the past winter, were loaded on a barge in the Rondout Creek yesterday. The mild winter, it is said, made the consumption of beer large and decreased the sale of whiskey.

Handsome Sites.

There are many handsome sites for residences on the high ground in the lower portion of this City. If residences were placed upon them it would add greatly to the appearance of the City as viewed from the Hudson River.

Farmers' Club.

A meeting of the Dutchess and Ulster Farmers' Club was held in Poughkeepsie today. At the morning session "Early Forage Crops" was the subject of discussion. This afternoon the subject was "The Use of Fertilizers."

A Matter of Importance.

Notwithstanding all the advantages of sewerage, etc., it is said the most important work for the benefit of the health of the people of a city is properly removing garbage and looking after outbuildings.

Shooting Muskrats.

Many muskrats are being shot on the "flats" at Sleightburgh by men who are hauling from that place canal boats which have been "wintering" there.

Cause for a Building Boom.

It is said most of the 40 men employed in the new shoe factory at Saugerties, desire to rent houses there but cannot do so on account of the scarcity of dwellings.

Paper Milk Cans.

Paper milk cans, weighing only 18 pounds, are being manufactured. It is claimed they will keep milk sweet 12 or 15 hours longer than tin cans.

EDUCATIONAL MATTERS.

MEETING OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES IN KINGSTON LAST NIGHT.

Report of the Finance Committee—Training Class—Number of Pupils Registered And Work that Has Been Accomplished Here.

A meeting of the Kingston Board of Education was held last night. The Trustees present were Gillespie, Shufeldt, Brigham, Connelly and TenBroeck. President Betts presided.

The Finance Committee reported bills audited to the amount of $4,750.

The report of the Collector was read. It stated that $300 had been collected and paid to the Treasurer.

The Treasurer's report showed the following: Account overdrawn as per last report, $5,324.40. Account overdrawn March 25, 1889, $7,332.55. Disbursements since February 25, 1889, $2,525.15. Receipts, $517.

The Committee on Repairs and Supplies reported that the repairs ordered for No. 15 school were completed.

Reports of Principals of the Academy and the various schools were read.

New pupils have entered, while some who were in attendance have left. A number of the members of the training class have obtained schools for the summer and are at work. The results of Regents' examinations as an indication of what the teachers have done in the way of instruction, and what the pupils have done in the way of study were satisfactory. In the preliminary subjects, 30 passed in arithmetic; 30 in geography; 27 in grammar; 27 in spelling. * * * "In all we have secured about 350 papers, which, if accepted, will entitle us to a large number of Regents' Academic certificates and State diplomas."

Principal Mower, of School No. 5, reported: Number registered, 316. Average daily attendance, 268. Term examinations have been held in all grades.

Principal Darrow, of School No. 8, reported: Number of pupils in attendance 346. The Principal said: "I have tried various ways to secure attendance, knowing that it was very essential that the pupil should be in school all of the time to get his work done. I got a flag and gave it to the class that made the highest per cent. during the week. It has increased the attendance from two to three per cent." Mr. Darrow further said that good work had been done in the examinations.

Principal Bennett, of School No. 11, reported: Attendance of pupils 294. Examinations have shown unusually good work on the part of teachers, especially in primary department.

Principal Murphy, of School No. 15, reported number of pupils enrolled 93. This school was progressing, everything being in excellent order.

The Principals of the various schools reported considerable illness.

The Committees on Organization and Repairs and Supplies were directed to make estimates of the expenses of the schools for the coming year.

The Board adjourned to the evening of April 24.

OTHER EDUCATIONAL MATTERS.

The spring term of the Delaware Academy at Delhi opened yesterday.

The pupils of Ulster Academy, Rondout, are taking interest in an "exhibition" to be given on Friday before the short Easter vacation.

NOTES ABOUT CURRENT LITERATURE.

The April Number of "Harper's Magazine"—"Scribner's"—Papers, Etc.

Charles Francis Adams's paper on "The Prevention of Railway Strikes," published in the April Scribner's, was written nearly three years ago, but held back by the author for fear that, in existing conditions, it might result in more harm than good. A practical scheme for giving employes a part in the management of the road is suggested.

The frontispiece of Harper's Magazine for April is the Gibbs-Channing portrait of Washington by Gilbert Stuart. Professor John Bach follows with a paper on "Washington's Inauguration," and Bjoinstjeine Bjornson contributes his third and last paper on "Norway and Its People." Benjamin Constant has prepared 12 drawings of scenes in Tangier and Morocco, and has put into his descriptive article some of what he calls the "light, whiteness, brilliancy" of the East.

West Athens.

A hotel will be built on the Burns property near the West Shore depot, this spring.

F. D. Lampman will leave Florence, Kansas, on Saturday next, for his home in this place.

The Rev. J. Demming, Pastor of the M. E. Church, will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday.

A paper is in the hands of Station Agent Odell for the purpose of establishing a Post-Office at West Athens.

A paper is in circulation for the purpose of buying the Athens and Schoharie turnpike, which will be sold on Saturday, in Catskill. If the town makes the purchase the thoroughfare will be thrown open as a district road.

Milton News.

The Unity Public Hall Association is in a fair way to soon commence the building of a large and substantial public hall. Three thousand dollars has been subscribed. The building to be erected will be two stories high and about 40 by 90 feet on the ground. The lower floor will be used for stores, etc. A portion of the ground floor will be used for a club kitchen and reception room. The upper floor will be fitted for amusement purposes. A meeting of the Association was held on Wednesday night, to consider the purchase of a site.

Brodheads.

One or two city boarders have already arrived here.

Zadoc P. Boice has purchased the standing trees on a valuable wood lot of the Brodhead family.

Mrs. M. N. Hunt, a Quakeress, of Rosendale Plains, preached two excellent sermons in the Shokan Church, on Sunday. On Monday evening Mrs. Hunt exhibited her temperance panorama and lectured in the Church.

Stone Ridge.

The proposed new railroad from Ellenville through the Rondout Valley to intersect with the Wallkill Valley Road at Binnewater, it is believed, will be built. A person living near Stone Ridge, a large land holder, offers the right of way through his lands and $1,000.

A., No. 32 Wall-street, beg leave to state that, entering upon the twenty-first year of their business, they are enabled to offer greater inducements than ever for 1889. Their fire companies comprise three out of the six largest corporations doing business in the United States, as to assets, and three out of five as to surplus to policy holders. Their records of County property enable them to insure by mail, telegraph or telephone, in companies of which they are the fully commissioned agents.

LETTER TO MY OLD FRIENDS.

Kingston, Feb. 28, 1889.

As I was born in the year 1801, you will see that the time is fast approaching when I shall be compelled to leave old "'Sopus" for ever. I desire to say that I have on hand a lot of my "Celebrated Black Salve," and if you call at my place on John-street, Kingston, you can secure it. If not convenient for you to call enclose 50 cents in a letter and direct to P. O. Box 929, Kingston, N. Y., and a box of the salve will be sent to you by mail. There is no better remedy for all kinds of sores, bruises, salt rheum, erysipelas, scrofula, chapped hands, &c., than this salve.

Respectfully yours, Dr. H.C. Rosencrance.

SOMETHING WORTH READING.

"A Tin Roof" is the title of a little book just issued by Messrs. Merchant & Co., 517 Arch-street, Philadelphia. The purpose of the publication is to supply to builders, architects and the general public some exact information as to the best methods of constructing a tin roof and as to the right materials to be used to secure satisfactory and permanent results. We especially recommend the book, which is intended for gratuitous distribution, to mill owners. They are very apt to trust the matter of roofing wholly to builders and they usually know really very little about the character of the tin used or the excellence or the defectiveness of the job. This pamphlet will help them to protect their interests. It is very explicit, perfectly comprehensible, and we think wholly trustworthy. It is quite profusely illustrated and the cuts indicate processes of applying tin-roofing which insure excellence.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

is carefully prepared from Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Mandrake, Dock, Pipsissewa, Juniper Berries and other well-known and valuable vegetable remedies, by a peculiar combination, proportion and process, giving to Hood's Sarsaparilla curative power not possessed by other medicines.
